EXTENSION OF THE SYSTEM OF SELLING GOVERNMENT QUININE TO THE PUBLIC THROUGH THE AGENCY OF THE POST OFFICE

MUNICIPAL DEPARTMENT—MEDICAL.

Calcutta, the 5th December 1903.

RESOLUTION No. 3186Medl.

READ—

A Resolution by the Government of India in the Home Department, Nos. 1197—1209, dated the 21st October 1903, on the subject of the extension of the system of selling Government quinine in small packets to the public through the agency of the Post Office.

THE Government of India have recently reviewed the working of the system of selling quinine in small quantities to the public, and the progress made with it in the various Provinces into which it has been introduced. They have expressed the opinion that there is still room for a further extension of the system; and with this view have commended certain suggestions to the consideration of Local Governments, of which the following are applicable to the Province of Bengal:—

(1) That packets of quinine should in future contain 7 instead of 5 grains of the drug, and should be sold at the rate of one pice per packet.

(2) That a short notice in the local vernacular should be printed on the paper in which the dose is wrapped, stating that the quinine is supplied under the authority of Government, and advising persons suffering from fever to take three packets or 21 grains of quinine in a day.

(3) That a set of instructions in the vernacular for self-treatment should be put up in a conspicuous place in all Post Offices and widely distributed.

(4) That quinine should also be made available for sale in two-anna parcels, each containing eight packets and a copy of the printed instructions for self-treatment.

2. The policy of Government has always been to work its Department of Cinchona Cultivation on a sound economic basis, avoiding all appearance of competition with the private manufacturer. The recent lowering of the cost of production of sulphate of quinine has rendered the cheapening of its sale to the public commercially possible. The Lieutenant-Governor therefore directs that, in accordance with the above recommendation, each pice packet of quinine sold to the public through the agency of the Post Office on and after the 1st April 1904 shall contain 7 instead of 5 grains of the drug.

3. The other suggestions of the Government of India will also be adopted. The short notice prepared by the Government of India, a copy of which is appended to this Resolution, will be translated into the vernacular and substituted for the instructions now printed on the wrapper in which each dose of quinine is enclosed; and the Jail Department are requested to arrange for this in communication with the Superintendent of Government Printing. The Jail Department will also arrange for the packing of a certain number of two-anna parcels, each containing eight packets of quinine and a copy of the set of fuller instructions for self-treatment prepared by the Government of India, which is also appended to this Resolution. The Postal authorities have undertaken to affix in all Post Offices, and to distribute to all who ask for them, vernacular translations of the fuller instructions for self-treatment.

4. The Lieutenant-Governor will be glad to be favoured with a report from the Inspector-General of Jails stating what steps have been taken to give effect to these orders.

ORDER.—Ordered that a copy of this Resolution be published in the Calcutta Gazette and in the vernacular Gazettes.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

L. P. SHIRRES,

Secretary to the Government of Bengal.

SPECIMEN FORM OF INSTRUCTIONS TO BE PRINTED IN VERNACULAR ON THE PACKETS.

GOVERNMENT OF————————

This packet contains one dose of pure quinine—seven grains.

Price—One pice.

INSTRUCTIONS.

Adults suffering from fever should take the contents of one packet 3 times a day in the morning, at midday and at night till cured. Young children suffering from fever should be given the contents of one packet in the morning. For full directions read the printed notice hung up at the Post Office.

Instructions for self-treatment by Quinine.

Method of taking the Quinine.—Each packet costing one pice contains seven grains of quinine, which is the amount required for one dose. The contents of one packet should be emptied into the mouth and quickly followed by a draught of cold water or milk.

(1) When an adult gets fever he should carry out the following instructions carefully.

Take one powder (7 grains) three times every day until the fever is quite cured. The first powder should be taken in the early morning, the second at midday, and the third in the evening. Sometimes the fever is cured in one day, sometimes in two, sometimes it may even take a week, but if a patient takes three packets of quinine regularly every day in the manner just described, he will almost always be cured in less than a week.

If a patient while taking the quinine has noises in his ears or deafness, he will know that the medicine is acting well and that he will soon be cured.

After the fever has quite left the patient, he will be wise if he still takes one packet of quinine (7 grains) every day in the early morning for 30 days. If he does this it will prevent the fever from returning.

(2) If a patient who has taken three packets each containing 7 grains of quinine regularly every day for a week, still has bad fever, he should be taken to the nearest hospital, because he probably is suffering from some more serious disease which cannot be cured by quinine alone.

(3) People who live in feverish districts will be wise if they take a dose of quinine regularly two or three times a week whether they get fever or not, because by doing so they will prevent themselves from getting fever. For this purpose one packet (7 grains) should be taken in the early morning before food, two or three times a week.

(4) The treatment of young children who get fever is the same as for adults, but one packet (7 grains) every day instead of three is sufficient. After the fever has left the child, one packet should be given in the early morning three times a week for a month to prevent the fever returning.

(5) In feverish districts many young children are pale in colour and have enlarged spleens. This is due to fever, and any father who wishes his children to grow up strong and healthy should give his children a dose (one packet of 7 grains) of quinine three times a week until the enlarged spleen becomes normal. If he does this, his children will be very much healthier and stronger.

REPORT ON THE EARLY COTTON CROP OF BENGAL, 1903.

THE following report is published for general information.

A. EARLE,
Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

The 4th December 1903.

DEPARTMENT OF LAND RECORDS AND AGRICULTURE, BENGAL.

Report on the Early Cotton Crop of Bengal, 1903.

Explanatory.—This report furnishes estimates of area and outturn of the early cotton crop, that is, the crop that is sown before the monsoon rains begin and harvested in the cold weather. Estimates of the late crop, which is sown after the rainy season is over and harvested in the hot weather, will be published in February.

2. Character of the season.—The early cotton crop is grown principally in the Chittagong Hill Tracts and in the districts of Sonthal Parganas, Manbhum, Singhbhum, Ranchi, Cuttack, and Hazaribagh. The defective rainfall in the early part of the season was, on the whole, favourable to this crop, except where the rainfall was altogether insufficient in May, as in Palamau, Monghyr and Puri. In Palamau the rainfall in June also was scanty. In the flowering season, i.e., in September and October, the rainfall was generally in excess, hence the low production in most districts.

3. Area sown.—It will be seen from the appended statement which summarises the district returns, that the normal area under early cotton in these Provinces is estimated at 70,400 acres. The area actually sown this year is estimated at 56,100 acres, against 58,300 acres sown last year. The decrease is partly attributable to the import of cotton twists which renders the cotton growing industry unremunerative.

The decrease of area in Palamau and Monghyr is attributed also to defective rainfall in May and June. The District Officer of Palamau gives another reason for the decrease of area from 4,300 to 2,000 acres in one year. It is the "increased restriction put on the indiscriminate cutting of jungle which provides the ashes with which lands under this crop are manured."

4. Character of the crop.—Sonthal Parganas, Singhbhum and Bhagalpur have reported a full crop. Midnapore, Cuttack, Balasore, Hazaribagh and Manbhum return estimates varying from 90 to 99 per cent. Five districts, viz.,

Jalpaiguri, Angul, Puri, Ranchi and Palamau estimate an outturn of between 60 and 80 per cent. The Chittagong Hill Tracts, which is the chief cotton-growing area in the Province, returns only half a normal crop. The lowest produce, viz., 31 per cent., is returned from Monghyr, but the area is trifling. The outturn for the Province, as a whole, according to district returns, works out to 81 per cent., but it would be safe to estimate 85 per cent. of a normal crop.

5. Outturn.—The total yield of the early cotton crop this year is estimated at 4,900,000lb. against 4,339,500lb. produced last year. The average yield of the preceding nine years amounted to 6,327,400lb.

The mean pressure, temperature, etc., are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph and from eye-observations.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard, Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground. Rainfall reported on any day is for 24 hours preceding 8 A.M. of that day.

⌓, dew; o, overcast.

The following are the conditions of sale:—

1. The opium will be sold for exportation by sea only, and no certificate will be granted except to cover such export.

2. The opium will be ordinarily offered for sale at an upset price of Rs. 800 per chest, and sold to the highest bidder above that price, except under the circumstances for which provision is made by clause 13 of these conditions of sale. The bids must advance by Rs. 5 at a time.

3. The sale shall commence at the hour of 11 A.M., of the day fixed by previous notification, and shall not be continued after the hour of 5 P.M., but if at that hour any of the lots advertised for sale shall remain unsold, the sale may, at the discretion of the Board of Revenue, be resumed on the next day following (not being Sunday or a public holiday), at the hour of 11 A.M., and so on until the whole of the remaining lots are disposed of; or if the whole quantity advertised shall not be sold on the day appointed, the Board of Revenue may dispose of the lots which remain on hand at a future sale.

4. Each lot shall contain five chests.

5. A Promissory Note for a sum, calculated according to the scale, noted in the margin, shall be taken as a deposit on each lot from the purchaser in the sale-room and before the lot is registered in the sale-book, and all such Promissory Notes shall be redeemed on the part of the purchasers at this Office by Bank of Bengal receipts or by substitution of other public securities of the Government of India, on or before 3-30 P.M., in the afternoon of the fifth day after the sale, provided it does not fall on a Saturday; if it falls on a Saturday, the said notes must be redeemed by 1-30 P.M., or, on the other hand, failing such redemption by the time aforesaid, then the lot or lots for which no Bank of Bengal receipts or deposit of other public securities as aforesaid shall have been delivered in, shall be re-sold at such time or times and under such conditions of re-sale as the Board of Revenue shall see fit; and all losses and expenses whatsoever attending such re-sale shall be borne and paid by the defaulters, whilst any profit accruing from such re-sale shall be forfeited to Government.

DEPOSIT.

When the amount bid is less than Rs. 1,200 per chest, Rs. 200 per chest.

On bids of Rs. 1,200 and upwards, but less than Rs. 1,600 per chest, Rs. 300 per chest.

On bids of Rs. 1,600 and upwards, but less than Rs 2,000 per chest, Rs. 400 per chest.

And so on, Rs 100 being added to the deposit for every bid additional to the extent of Rs. 400.

6. The said Promissory Notes shall be absolutely payable in any event, and the amount thereof shall be absolutely forfeited upon such default as before mentioned, and the amount thereof shall not go or be credited in reduction of any loss on re-sale or expenses thereby incurred; but shall be recoverable whether such re-sale shall be had or not, or whether there shall be a loss on such re-sale or not.

7. The Promissory Notes taken on the day of sale under the fifth condition, if remaining unredeemed at 3-30 P.M. of the fifth day following the day of sale, or 1-30 P.M., if the last day falls on a Saturday, will be placed in the hands of the Solicitor to the Government for realization in such manner as to him shall seem fit.

8. No tender of money, Bank of Bengal receipts, or public securities, on account of opium upon which the prescribed deposit may not have been made before the prescribed time in clause 5 on the fifth day following the day of sale, will be afterwards accepted. Provided always that money so subsequently tendered may be taken in payment of the said Promissory Note, but such acceptance of money shall in no way entitle the payer thereof to any right to delivery of the lot or lots in respect whereof the said note was given, or to any of the rights of a purchaser thereof, or release the payer from liability for any unpaid balance of such notes or from the additional liability for the loss and expenses of such re-sale as provided for in clauses No. 5 and No. 6.

9. The opium advertised for sale shall be paid for not later than by 3 30 P.M. of the fifteenth day from the day of sale, provided it does not fall on a Saturday; if it falls on a Saturday, the opium must be paid for by 1-30 P.M.; and in case any lots of such opium shall not be so paid for and adjusted, then the cash deposit made under the fifth condition, or any public securities that may have been deposited on account of such lots or chests, shall be forfeited, and the opium shall be disposed of on account of Government at such time and in such manner as the Board of Revenue shall think fit; and the first purchaser shall further be required to make good all expenses and any loss or difference of price between that obtained at the re-sale and the amount at which the opium was first purchased, forfeiting all advantages that may arise from such re-sale, and the liability for the loss or difference of price and expenses shall be in addition to, and wholly independent of, the amount of the deposit so forfeited.

10. Purchasers taking out certificates or orders for the delivery of opium, after making full payment as above prescribed, shall have the option of naming the number of lots of their purchase, which they may desire to be included in each certificate or order; and it is to be clearly understood that the certificates or orders so taken out shall be considered final, and not afterwards changeable for other certificates or orders authorising the delivery of single lots or of a different number of lots or chests, whether more or less, than the number of lots or chests ordinarily required to be included in each certificate or order.

11. No deposit of public securities under the 5th of the present conditions will be received in this office except from the party recorded as the purchaser in the sale-book, or his authorized agent. The receipt for deposit of public securities will be granted only in the name of such purchaser, and the securities so deposited will be returned when payment in full has been made by the said purchaser or his order.

12. The officer superintending the sale on the part of the Government is empowered to reject, at his discretion, the bid of any individual, unless such individual shall on demand render at the time a deposit either in Government of India Notes, Bank of Bengal receipts, or Government securities, a sum equal to the amount for which a Promissory Note would otherwise be taken under the fifth of these conditions.

13. With a view to prevent fictitious biddings designed to obstruct the sale, it is hereby notified that the officer of Government superintending the sale shall be competent, at any time during the sale, to withdraw any unsold lot, and immediately to put it up again for sale at a maximum upset price, diminishing the same gradually by Rs. 5 at a time until a bid is obtained; and the first bonâ fide bidder for a lot, after it has been offered for sale in the mode here described, shall be held and declared to be the purchaser of the said lot, and the officer of Government superintending the sale shall also be competent to dispose, in the same manner, of as many of the subsequent lots as he may think proper, provided always that no lot shall be sold below the minimum price of Rs. 800 specified in the second of these conditions.

14. The purchaser of any lot shall have the option of naming and purchasing in immediate succession, at the same price and under the same conditions, any number of lots of the same Agency opium not exceeding altogether twenty-five lots, provided always that there remain a sufficient number of lots of the opium to complete the said twenty-five.

15. In the event of any dispute or difference touching or concerning any matter or question arising out of the sale of the opium included in this notification, or adjustment of the account thereof, the same shall and may be tried and decided in the High Court of Judicature at Fort William in Bengal.

16. The following papers will be exhibited for inspection on the day of sale, or may be seen previously to that date by personal application at the Office of the Board of Revenue:—No. 1, Certificate of the opium advertised for sale; No. 2, Report of the examination of such opium.

17. The public are hereby informed that in providing the investment of the opium manufactured at the Patna Factory and the opium manufactured at the Ghazipur Factory for the year 1902-1903, the same precautions have been taken as those which have been observed during past years to have the drug procured and sent down in a pure state, to have only the prescribed quantity of leaves used in forming the cakes, and to have the due proportion of opium put into each cake. An account of the weight of the drug, when packed at the Patna and Ghazipur Factories, and a statement of the average weight of the chests, indiscriminately taken, for the purpose of comparison, from the despatches on arrival at Calcutta, may be seen on personal application at the Office of the Board of Revenue.

18. Any further information respecting weight or quality of the opium advertised for sale that may be desired by parties connected with the trade will, as heretofore, be furnished to them on personal application at the Office of the Board of Revenue. But, in accordance with established usage, under no circumstances will the Board of Revenue entertain or recognize any claim to compensation for loss from any alleged deficiency of weight, abstraction of opium, or adulteration of the drug, which may be preferred on reference to chests after the sale and delivery of the opium for shipment.

Calcutta, the 11th December 1903.

No. 3739.—The following letters containing certain proposals for reducing the territorial jurisdiction of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal by transferring portions of it to adjacent Provinces, are published for general information:—

No. 3678, dated Calcutta, the 3rd December 1903.

From—H. H. RISLEY, Esq., C.I.E., Secretary to the Government of India,
To—The Chief Secretary to the Government of Bengal.

I am directed to address you on the subject of the desirability of reducing the territorial jurisdiction of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal with the object of lightening the excessive burden now imposed upon the Government by the increase of population, the expansion of commercial and industrial enterprise, and the growing complexity of all branches of the administration.

Despatch No. 10, dated 16th January 1868.

2. As long ago as 1868 Sir Stafford Northcote drew attention to the greatly augmented demands that the outlying portions of Bengal appeared to make on the time and labour of those concerned in the government of the province. He referred to the famine of 1866 as furnishing evidence of the defects of the existing system of government when exposed to the ordeal of a serious emergency, and among other methods of relieving the overtasked administration, he suggested the separation from Bengal proper of Assam and possibly of Orissa. In the discussions that followed the question was very thoroughly examined by a number of high authorities, and eventually it was decided that Orissa should remain attached to Bengal, but that Assam proper and certain other districts on the north-eastern frontier of Bengal should be formed into a separate Chief Commissionership directly under the Government of India. At the time when this decision was arrived at, the population of Bengal as then constituted was believed to be between 40 and 50 millions. The Census of 1872 showed it to be nearly 67 millions. With these figures before him Sir G. Campbell said, as Sir William Grey had said five years before, that the territories under the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal were more than one man unaided could properly govern. Since then the population of Bengal, as it now stands, has risen to 78½ millions, and this increase has been accompanied by a considerable development of the material resources of the country, and a great extension of railways and other means of communication, while the spread of English education and the wider diffusion of the native press tend to increase litigation, to demand more precise methods of administration, to give greater publicity to the conduct of officials, and in every way to place a heavier strain upon the head of the Government and upon all ranks of his subordinates. In the opinion of the Government of India, the time has come when the relief of the Bengal Government must be regarded as an administrative necessity of the first order. And that relief can be afforded, not, as has been suggested on several previous occasions, by organic changes in the form of Government, but only by actual transference of territory. It is unnecessary to refer to the circumstances which have brought about the great concentration of peoples (with a corresponding growth of administrative problems) in the deltaic regions that constitute the greater part of Lower Bengal. The fact is sufficient that at the present time the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal is called upon to administer an area of 189,000 square miles (151,000 British territory) with a population of 78,493,000 (74,744,000 in British territory) and a gross revenue of 1,137 lakhs (land revenue 505 lakhs).

3. The Government of India believe it to be beyond dispute that this is too heavy a burden for any one man, and that it cannot be adequately discharged save at the expense of efficiency. A Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal, if he spent the whole of the available season of the year in touring, could yet only succeed, during his term of office, in visiting a portion of his vast charge. As a matter of fact, it will commonly be found that places so important as Chittagong, Dacca, Cuttack, and Ranchi receive not more than a single hurried visit within the five years. The Lieutenant-Governor is generally expected to be in Calcutta during the winter months, from November to April, and there his time is taken up not only by social duties, which are onerous and which tend continually to increase, but by official or ceremonial functions in which he is called upon to play a leading part; while personal interviews occupy a large portion of his time. He is only able to undertake short and hurried excursions in his province at this, which is the most favourable season of the year: and the time that he devotes to his departments and to provincial administration is constantly being encroached upon by great Municipal and other problems. In the remaining seasons of the year he is unable to make up the deficit for which Calcutta has been responsible. The result of both these features, viz., the hurried and necessarily incomplete tours of the Lieutenant-Governor through his province, and his overwhelming pre-occupations while he resides in the capital, is that in Bengal the work of Government has come to be less personal in its character than in any other Indian administration. Anywhere in India this would be a grave defect, but it is worst of all in a province where already, owing to the existence of the Permanent Settlement, there is wanting that link of close knowledge and mutual understanding between the district officer and the people that is supplied by an intimate familiarity with the Land Revenue settlement and administration. Thus in the province where personal rule is perhaps most required, there is least of it, and where the officers know least of the people, the Government knows least of its officers. This is a state of affairs that cannot be revolutionised in a moment, and perhaps cannot be revolutionised at all. But the one course that is practicable is to reduce the gravity of the mischief by curtailing its extent, and to afford the opportunity for increased contact between the administration and the people by easing the former's burden. Already in 1874 the same line of reasoning led, in spite of many contemporary protests, to the severance of Assam from Bengal. The result has undoubtedly been beneficial to both parties, and the experiment has been justified. The time has now come when it should be repeated on a larger scale. No question of loss of prestige or even of temporary sacrifice of advantage ought to stand in the way of a statesmanlike and far-sighted handling of the question. As in 1874, the main criterion of the action of Government should be the good of the districts and the people whom it is proposed to transfer, but behind this stands the paramount consideration that transference on a large scale has become an absolute necessity.

4. This curtailment can be effected only in two directions. The neighbouring provinces to Bengal are the United Provinces on the North-West, the Central Provinces on the West and South-West, Madras on the South, and Assam on the North-East and East. Proposals to take away Behar and add it to the area now known as the United Provinces have been put forward in former days, but are not now likely to be revived. Moreover, the Government of the United Provinces with 112,000 square miles (107,000 British territory) and 48,493,000 people (47,691,000 in British territory) to administer, has already in respect both of area and population a sufficiently heavy charge. Nor would the Government of India propose (apart from special reasons connected with the circumstances of the border districts) to add to the area or responsibilities of Madras. That Government is fully occupied with 151,000 square miles (141,000 British territory) and 42,397,000 people (38,209,000 in British territory).

5. There remain then the Central Provinces and Assam. Both are young and growing administrations, capable of sustaining a heavier charge. Both will profit rather than lose by an increase of responsibilities. It is in these two directions that relief to Bengal must be sought and a readjustment of boundaries applied.

6. In considering the question of possible transfers of territory from Bengal to the Central Provinces, the Governor General in Council will deal first with the relatively less important area of Chutia Nagpur. Chutia Nagpur consists of five British districts and a number of Tributary Mahals, ruled by small Native Chiefs. The total area is 43,000 square miles (27,000 British territory), population 5,901,000 (4,900,000 in British territory), land revenue of British districts 7¼ lakhs. A large proportion of the inhabitants of this country consists of comparatively primitive people of aboriginal descent, who supply labourers to the coal-mines of Bengal, the tea-plantations of the Western Duars and Assam, and the jute or cotton mills on the Hughli. As far back as 1887, it was suggested that Chutia Nagpur should be transferred to the Central Provinces, but the proposal excepted the two districts of Hazaribagh and Manbhum, the former bordering upon Behar and the latter upon Bengal, because of their greater affinities with Bengal characteristics. If Hazaribagh and Manbhum are both deducted from the area to be transferred to the Central Provinces, then the latter would receive in British territory 15,800 square miles and 2,421,000 people. If Manbhum alone is left to Bengal, the transfer to the Central Provinces would affect 22,000 square miles and 3,599,000 people. Bearing in mind the imperative necessity of affording relief to Bengal, the Government of India are disposed, other things being equal, to advocate the transfer to the Central Provinces of the larger rather than of the smaller area. On this question I am to invite a full expression of the Lieutenant-Governor's opinion.

7. The arguments in favour of the transfer may be briefly summarised as follows:—

(i) In character and state of development the people of Chutia Nagpur correspond much more closely with those in the Central Provinces than with the population of Bengal.

(ii) The Bengal form of administration is too highly developed, too legalised, and too impersonal for backward tracts and primitive hill-tribes. This view is borne out by the experience of a series of outbreaks in recent years and by the difficulties met with in dealing effectually with the land tenures of this part of the province.

8. The considerations on the opposite side may be stated thus:—

(i) It will probably be represented that Chutia Nagpur is one of the few attractive Divisions in Bengal, the stations of Ranchi and Hazaribagh being situated 2,000 feet above the sea and possessing considerable climatic advantages. The Bengal Government will doubtless not fail to give to this view the importance to which it is entitled; but it is clearly not one that should exercise a determining effect in the decision of the Government of India.

(ii) There is a further argument that may perhaps be used in favour of leaving the District of Hazaribagh with Bengal. This is the existence in that district of some of the most valuable present or prospective coal-fields of Bengal (e.g., Karharbari and Karanpura). The connection of this industry lies almost exclusively with Calcutta, and therein may be found a possible reason for the continuance of the present administrative tie. It is conceivable that the solution may be found in transferring a portion only of the district, so adjusted as to leave the principal coal-fields with Bengal. The same argument is capable of being used, although with less force, of the District of Palamau (containing the coal-field of Daltonganj); and the Lieutenant-Governor will know what value to attach to a plea for the association of these northern districts of Chutia Nagpur with Behar.

(iii) It may also perhaps be urged that Ranchi is nearer to Calcutta than to Nagpur, and that difficult ranges of hills separate Chutia Nagpur on the west from the Central Provinces. The fact is that Chutia Nagpur is more or less inaccessible from most directions. No administrative rearrangement can for the present alter this material fact. What the Government of India are concerned with, however, is the relief of its administrative rather than its physical isolation. If the people cannot be brought nearer to Government, it is at least desirable to bring Government nearer to them.

9. On a careful consideration of the foregoing arguments the Government of India are disposed to favour the transfer of Chutia Nagpur (except the District of Manbhum, and possibly part or the whole of Hazaribagh) with its Tributary Mahals to the Central Provinces. The only modification in this arrangement that may be required will be contingent upon the decision that may be arrived at concerning the Uriya-speaking peoples. If these are all to be concentrated, as is proposed below, in a single tract to be administered, not by the Central Provinces but by Bengal, then (supposing geographical conditions to render this practicable) it may be desirable to exclude such Uriya-speaking elements as there are in Chutia Nagpur, and to leave them with Bengal. They are contained almost exclusively in the District of Singbhum, where there are 100,000 Uriya-speaking people out of a total population of 613,000. In the centre of that district 235,000 people speak a Munda language, named Ho, which in course of time will probably give place to Uriya. The retention of Singbhum by Bengal would be facilitated by the existence on its eastern border of the large Bengali thana of Ghatsila (220,000 population).

10. I am next to pass to a discussion of the case of Orissa. The total area of Orissa is 24,000 square miles (9,800 British territory), population 6,290,000 (4,343,000 in British territory), land revenue 28 lakhs. A glance at the map will show that, while under existing conditions Orissa is somewhat of a projection from the south-western corner of Bengal, if the proposals already made as regards Chutia Nagpur are carried out, its physical detachment from the remainder of that province will be still more pronounced. These circumstances, added to others which will be mentioned, have always brought the case of Orissa under examination when the question of relief to Bengal has been raised, and its transfer to the Central Provinces has been suggested on several occasions. The reasons urged in favour of the change are the same now as they were then. They may be stated and criticised as follows:—

(i) There is a historical connection between Orissa and the Maratha tracts of the Central Provinces. This argument might be of some use as supporting other considerations that pointed in the same direction. But it will be generally admitted that it has no independent value, since the question now under consideration is concerned not with ancient history, but with present and future needs.

(ii) Orissa is a temporarily settled area (as are the whole of the Central Provinces), while the remainder of Bengal, with the exception of certain tracts in Chittagong which will probably be transferred, is under the Permanent Settlement. This is a very weighty consideration, and the Government of India do not underrate its value. But, in the present situation, wider considerations even than those of Land Revenue settlement and administration must prevail.

(iii) The national tongue of Orissa is Uriya, and as Uriya is the language spoken by 1½ millions of people in the Central Provinces (mainly in Sambalpur and the attached States), therefore it may be contended Orissa ought to be joined to the Central Provinces. The argument from language is, however, equally capable of being used as a still more convincing plea for the union of the smaller Uriya-speaking area with the larger; and it is in this sense that it will presently be employed.

11. On the other hand, the reasons which have always hitherto prevailed against the transfer are as follows:—

(i) Orissa has been for close upon a century under the Bengal administration. The prescription of a century is difficult to break, though not insurmountable. It is believed to be accompanied in the case of Orissa by a very strong feeling on the part of the educated and commercial classes in favour of the existing arrangements. This again is a condition that is capable of being overruled, but that requires a strong case of probable advantage to the severed unit in order to justify the change.

(ii) But in the case of Orissa the strongest argument against any such probable advantage is to be found in the recent completion of the East Coast Railway, which has now brought the province into far closer connection with Calcutta than would ever be possible with the Central Provinces. Cuttack, the capital of Orissa, is distant only 12 hours from Calcutta as against 20 from Nagpur, and even if a connection were made viâ Sambalpur, the latter distance would only be reduced by about ten hours. In these circumstances, Orissa now receives from Bengal a degree of attention that it could hardly expect to obtain from the Central Provinces; while the completion of the railway has greatly strengthened the commercial links that already attach the internal and maritime towns of Orissa with Calcutta.

(iii) The argument has sometimes been employed on paper that it would be a good thing to provide the Central Provinces with a maritime outlet. But it is weakened in this case by the fact that Orissa possesses no harbour that is capable of being turned into a port, Chandbally, the only possible claimant, being difficult of approach and comparatively unfrequented.

The balance of argument, as thus stated, appears to the Government of India to be on the whole decisive against the transfer of Orissa to the Central Provinces; although it is not desired to arrive at a final opinion, until the views of the Local Government, who are in a better position to represent local interests and necessities, have been fully heard.

12. The future of Orissa will not, however, be determined exclusively by a consideration of the points that have already been put forward. Other and wider issues are, in the opinion of the Governor General in Council, involved. They embrace questions of race and language, in addition to or apart from the more arbitrary distinctions of administrative or territorial partition. Uriya has been already referred to as the prevalent language of Orissa both in the plain districts and in the Tributary Mahals. It is also the vernacular of a large surrounding area. This area comprises—

(a) Sambalpur and certain adjacent Feudatory States, now under the Central Provinces.

(b) A part of the Singbhum District of Chutia Nagpur, now under Bengal.

(c) The Ganjam District, now under Madras, in which, out of a total population of 1,689,000, 1,275,000 are Uriya-speaking.

(d) The Ganjam Agency Tracts, also administered by Madras, in which, out of a population of 321,000, 87,000 are Uriya-speaking. The majority (157,000) of the people of these tracts speak Khond, a Dravidian language which, as education spreads, is certain to give place to Uriya, while the speakers of Telugu number only 5,800.

(e) The Vizagapatam Agency Tracts, also under Madras, in which, out of a population of 850,000, 409,000 are Uriya-speaking. The Vizagapatam District proper is in a different position, since, out of a population of 2,082,000, only 30,000 are Uriya-speaking, and this area accordingly does not enter into the field of the present discussion.

13. The difficulties arising from the problem thus created have been for years a source of anxiety and trouble to the different provinces concerned. No official complaint has been received from Bengal, because the factor of its Uriya-speaking population has been one with which it has had to deal for a century, and to which it has learned to accommodate itself as best it could. The Central Provinces, on the other hand, have experienced such difficulties in connexion with the administration of Sambalpur, that the Chief Commissioner asked in 1901 to be relieved of that district altogether, and although the Government of India were then unable to comply with the request, they were compelled to rescind a previous decision of 1895, which had proved unworkable in practice, and to restore Uriya as the Court language of Sambalpur. Similarly, the Government of Madras have repeatedly complained of the anxieties imposed upon the administration by the great diversity of languages (Uriya, Tamil, Telugu, Malayalam, Canarese) with which Madras civilians are called upon to cope, and which render the transfer of officers from one part of the Presidency to another a matter in any case of great difficulty and often of positive detriment to the public interest. These disadvantages exercise an injurious effect not only upon the administration, but still more upon the people. Where the population speaking a distinct language and the area over which it is spoken are too small to constitute a substantial portion of a province, the foreign unit is almost of necessity neglected. Under ordinary conditions the Government is unable to retain in it a superior staff who have become acquainted with the local language, and with the local customs which invariably accompany it. It is often impossible to officer the subordinate staff from local sources, and foreigners have to be brought in who are ignorant alike of the people, their language, and their ways. The Government may order that the vernacular shall be the language of the Government offices and Courts; but since neither officers nor clerks know this vernacular properly, compliance with the order is often impracticable and almost always incomplete. Nowhere are these drawbacks more conspicuous than among the Uriya-speaking peoples distributed, as has been pointed out, between three administrations, and a source of constant anxiety to each. Hence in dealing with a question of this kind, it may be that the true criterion of territorial redistribution should be sought not in race but in language. Applying this test in the present case, it is doubtful whether any positive distinction can be drawn between the Uriya-speaking peoples of the plains and those of the hills. The Uriya of Sambalpur is described indeed as a hybrid patois, as compared with the purer tongue of Orissa. No doubt there is some truth in this. Hillmen always talk a ruder dialect than plain-men, and uncivilised tribes than civilised peoples. But there is reason to believe that in the Eastern half of the Sambalpur District good Uriya is spoken, though in the west it gradually melts into Chhatisgarhi Hindi. In any case practical experience goes to show that the connection between a spoken language and its dialect or its patois, is a more potent ground of union than a purely racial difference is one of separation. The Uriya-speaking group in any case emerges as a distinct and unmistakable factor, with an identity and interests of its own.

14. The opinions of the members of this group have, on several occasions, been expressed in no uncertain sound. They entertain, so far as is known, no particular desire for the disruption of existing ties, as compared one with the other; but they entertain the strongest desire for the disruption of all such ties if by these means they can purchase the much greater advantage of linguistic union. They ask not so much to be taken away from Madras, with whose administration they are not believed to have grounds for complaint, or to be added to or taken away from the Central Provinces, or to remain under or be transferred to Bengal, as to be welded by the link of their common language into a single administrative whole. The Government of India have received a petition from the people of Ganjam in which they speak of themselves as dissociated from their Uriya brethren and of Orissa as "a limb separated from the body," and they pray, not for a patchwork redistribution, but that the Government of India "will be graciously pleased to bring together the scattered divisions inhabited by Uriya-speaking peoples, i.e., Ganjam in Madras, Sambalpur in the Central Provinces, and Orissa in Bengal, under the Government of Bengal or under any one Government and one University." To the same effect is the prayer of Raja Baikuntha Nath of Balasore that "all the districts and States speaking the Uriya language be united together and placed under one common administration, no matter whether under Madras, Bengal, the Central Provinces, or a separate administration." The Government of India have further been informed on the best authority that even those among the people of Sambalpur who are most attached to the Central Provinces "would prefer to sever connection with the province to giving up their mother tongue." It is for unity on the basis of language, not for redistribution on the basis of administrative advantage, that all these memorialists plead. It is not contended that opinions may not be forthcoming on the opposite side. If they exist they will doubtless be evoked by the present discussion. So far, however, as any expression of local views has yet reached the Government of India, it coincides with the independent impression that has been formed by them.

15. On the grounds above stated the Government of India are disposed to unite the whole of the Uriya-speaking peoples, both hill and plain, under one administration, and to make that administration Bengal. In other words, they would add to Orissa the Uriya-speaking tracts of Sambalpur (615,941 Uriya-speaking people out of a total population of 829,698), and its Feudatory States, the Ganjam District (with the possible exception of one taluk in which Uriya is said not to be the prevalent language) and the Ganjam and Vizagapatam Agency Tracts. Such a scheme would solve the question of language once and for all. This change would relieve both the Central Provinces and Madras of a troublesome excrescence upon their administrative system: and it would result in handing over the Uriya problem to one Government alone, on a scale and with a unity that would admit of its being treated with consistency and efficiency.

16. If the objection be raised to this suggestion that, while in the earlier portion of this letter the Government of India advocated relief to Bengal, they are now proposing to add to its burdens, the answer will be found in the far more important changes that will be explained in the remaining paragraphs.

17. The effect of the proposals hitherto sketched on the population of the Central Provinces is shown in the following statement :—

18. The Governor General in Council now turns to the concluding province which has a claim to gain in any redistribution scheme that may be put forward. It is now nearly 30 years since Assam was severed from Bengal, and 11 years since it received the only territorial addition that has subsequently been made to it. This was the Lushai Hills in 1892. In 1896-97 there was a prolonged discussion as to whether the Chittagong Division should also be transferred to Assam. But, though the project seemed at one time likely to take shape, it was eventually set aside for the time on grounds which have now ceased to have effect. The result is that Assam remains in much the same condition in respect of boundaries as when it was first created a Chief Commissionership, and is both the smallest and the most backward of the local Administrations. It contains an area of 56,000 square miles (nearly 53,000 British territory), a population of 6,126,000 (5,841,000 in British territory), and a gross revenue of 128 lakhs (land revenue 68 lakhs).

19. The Government of India are aware that the smallness and backwardness of Assam have been appealed to as supplying a sufficient argument against any expansion at all. They are inclined to entertain precisely the opposite view. In their opinion it is to its contracted area, to its restricted opportunities, to its lack of commercial outlet, to its alien services, and to the predominance in its life and administration of a single industrial interest depending in the main upon imported labour, that what has been described as the parochialism of Assam is due. The province requires an impulse forward in all of these directions. It requires territorial expansion in order to give to its officers a wider and more interesting field of work. It requires a maritime outlet in order to develop its industries in tea, oil, and coal. The paying portions of the Assam-Bengal Railway are in the south, and the whole line, if it is to be utilised in the interests of the province ought to be under a single administration. Assam, moreover, will continue to be handicapped, so long as it is dependent for its service upon what it may be fortunate enough to borrow from Bengal. A province that can only offer the prize of one Commissionership, that is remote in locality and backward in development and organization, will not attract the highest type of civilians to its employ. The Government of India regard it indeed as incontestable that, with a service recruited as at present and confined within the present limits, Assam will find extreme difficulty in attaining the level of a really efficient administration; and it is for this reason that, in considering the question of changes, they are impressed with the paramount necessity for making them on such a scale as will remove this fundamental source of weakness, and will, if possible, give to Assam a service of its own, offering a career that will attract and retain men of ability and mark. No temporary opposition in the transferred towns or areas, no artificial agitation or interested outcry, should, in their opinion, be permitted to divert the efforts of Government from the main object, viz., the erection of Assam into a vigorous and self-contained administration, capable of playing the same part on the North-East Frontier of India that the Central Provinces have done in the centre, and that the Punjab formerly did on the North-West. If this end can be attained coincidently with a relief to the overburdened and congested administration of Bengal, the reform should be the more cordially recommended and the more readily approved. The Governor General in Council will now proceed to explain the means by which he thinks that this object may be secured.

20. The Chittagong Division consists of four Districts with an area of 11,770 square miles, a population of 4,737,000 and a land revenue of 31¾ lakhs. Attached to it is the Native State of Hill Tippera, with an area of 4,000 square miles, and a population of 173,000. It has already been mentioned that the incorporation of these areas with Assam has more than once been under discussion: while a reference to the papers on the last of these occasions, viz., in 1896-97, will show that it was then postponed rather than vetoed the reasons against its acceptance being mainly of a temporary character, which have since disappeared. There is now a strong consensus of official opinion in favour of the change, and the people of Chittagong themselves, who have previously been opposed to the transfer, are understood to have changed their view and to be largely in favour of the change.

21. The main arguments in its favour, in addition to the above consensus of authoritative opinion, are the following:—

(i) The port of Chittagong has not attained the full development of which it appears to be susceptible under the administration of Bengal. In any case, it cannot have been easy for a Local Government dominated by the interests of a great port like Calcutta, to do much towards promoting the advancement of a humbler rival, situated so short a distance away. The Chittagong Port Trust is in consequence in a somewhat unsatisfactory condition, and it has been necessary to consider special measures for adding to its revenues. If on the other hand Chittagong were added to Assam, these special drawbacks might be expected to disappear. There would be every inducement to the Local Government to develop the port, since the entire interests of the province, financial, industrial, and commercial, would be involved in its welfare. Already the advent of the railway has caused a considerable stir in Chittagong, and the value of land is rising with startling rapidity. The Government of India entertain no doubt that Chittagong, if transferred to Assam, will find a great future awaiting it, and that the port will gain equally with the internal industries of which it is the maritime outlet, and whose produce demands easy and rapid access to the sea. Further, there can be little doubt that Chittagong, even if it did not become the cold weather head-quarters of the Chief Commissioner, must at least receive a great deal of his attention and time.

(ii) The Assam-Bengal Railway will be administered with a greater regard to the interests of the province if it is placed under single instead of divided control. If the heavy expenditure incurred on this line is to be justified, if its mountain sections are to be really utilised in the exploitation of the country, it can only be by a fusion of interests between the upper and lower portions of the line; and to this a single administration will powerfully contribute. The junction between the two portions of the railway is on the verge of being effected; only a small section between Badarpur and Lumding remains to be finished; and then the oil wells of Digboi and Makum, the coal-mines of Margharita, and the tea plantations of the Upper Brahmaputra, will be placed in unbroken connection by rail with the Bay of Bengal.

(iii) There is no distinction, but, on the contrary, the closest resemblance between the condition of the people and the administration in the Chittagong Division, and those in the neighbouring Assam Districts of Sylhet and Cachar. The systems of land settlement and tenure are the same in both areas; the inhabitants are identical in race, religion, and language. The objections which were raised thirty years ago to the absorption of Sylhet and Cachar in Assam have proved to be unfounded: and if those districts were now to be given the option of re-union with Bengal, the Government of India believe that they would decline the offer.

22. To the arguments that have on previous occasions been brought, or that might be brought now, against the change, a sufficient reply is, in the opinion of the Government of India, in each case forthcoming.

(i) A fear has been expressed that the people of Chittagong would suffer by being subjected to an inferior standard of law and administration. There does not appear, however, to be any ground for this apprehension. For it is certain that there would be no change either in the class of officers employed, or in the administration of the law, while all the operations of Government would receive closer supervision from the Chief Commissioner of Assam than they can possibly meet with from the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal.

(ii) A similar fear has found vent that Chittagong would be removed from the jurisdiction of the High Court of Calcutta. This also is groundless alarm, for the jurisdiction would remain as now.

(iii) The loss of the control of the Bengal Board of Revenue has also been cited as a serious deprivation. The same thing was said in 1874 of Sylhet and Cachar. Under the present system the Chief Commissioner of Assam acts as Commissioner for those two districts, which do not appear to have suffered under his charge. This system will, of course, cease if Assam is enlarged to the full extent which the Government of India contemplate, and the contrast will then be between administration by a Board of Revenue and administration by a Chief Commissioner as in the Central Provinces. On various grounds the Government of India are disposed to prefer the latter system. In connection with this question it should be noted that in 1896 the members of the Bengal Board of Revenue were themselves strongly in favour of the transfer of Chittagong, and only advocated its postponement until the new settlement had been concluded and the railway finished; while Sir A. Mackenzie wrote in Mr. Bolton's letter of 13th August 1896—"There will be a temporary disadvantage in having to prefer revenue appeals before what will be at first an inexpert tribunal; but the Assam Administration will soon master the subject, specially as the local ministerial establishments, who are familiar with the records, would also be transferred, and the Board of Revenue in Bengal could always be consulted."

(iv) There remains the loss to Chittagong of what Sir A. Mackenzie in the same letter described as "its fractional interest in the Bengal Council." The value of this asset is, in the present conditions, small. Moreover, such as it is, its loss would be more than compensated if Assam (presuming it to receive the larger instead of the smaller expansion under discussion) were to share a seat on the Legislative Council of the Governor General with the Central Provinces, furnishing a member alternately with that administration.

23. The foregoing proposals will have some effect in extending the possibilities of the development of Assam and diminishing its drawbacks. But in the opinion of the Governor General in Council they will still fall short of providing it with that which is the real secret of efficient administration, viz., a self-contained and independent service. Moreover the union of the Uriya-speaking people under Bengal will involve a substantial addition to its population in the south, while the transfer of the greater part of Chutia Nagpur and the whole of the Chittagong Division with Hill Tippera will only bring about a net reduction of some five millions in the population now subject to the Lieutenant-Governor. It is clear that this would represent no great advance in the direction of affording relief to Bengal from its present excessive burden. It is mainly in these two points of view—the necessity of improving the Assam services and of reducing the responsibilities of Bengal—that the Government of India now proceed with a further suggestion, namely, the proposal to incorporate with Assam the districts of Dacca and Mymensingh.

24. These two districts of Eastern Bengal contain an area of 9 000 square miles, a population of 6,564,000, and a land revenue of 17 lakhs. Their association with Assam was first suggested by Sir W. Ward, Chief Commissioner, in 1896. It was opposed by his successor, Mr. (now Sir H.) Cotton, in 1897. It has been discussed in a tentative manner by the present Chief Commissioner. Mr. Fuller sees how greatly the transfer would be to the interest of his province, but he also recognizes the difficulties, and he entertains some apprehension at the idea of Assam being swallowed up by Eastern Bengal. On the other hand, the transfer is strongly recommended by other authorities.

25. Apart from the broader considerations to which attention has already been called, the arguments for the transfer may be stated as follows :—

(i) Geographically, Dacca and Mymensigh are separated by a clear line of division, viz., the main channel of the Brahmaputra River, from Bengal. If they are joined to Assam, the latter will possess a definite and intelligible western boundary, whereas if the Chittagong Division is assigned to Assam, and Dacca and Mymensingh are left with Bengal, then the two latter districts will constitute a projection from the main body of Bengal obtruding itself into the heart of Assam, from which they will be separated by no ties either of origin, language, religion, or administration.

(ii) Not only will the transfer enable Assam to obtain an independent service, but that service would possess three separate Commissionerships, which would be its prize appointments. These would be (1) the Brahmaputra valley or Assam proper ; (2) Dacca, to which would be added Sylhet and Cachar ; (3) Chittagong.

(iii) The proposed transfer of Chittagong to Assam would constitute Chittagong the port of Assam. Equally would it be the port of Dacca and Mymensingh, of which it is the natural commercial outlet. Though the associations of these two districts have hitherto been almost exclusively with Bengal, yet the connection between them and Calcutta is from the physical point of view both arbitrary and unnatural, the numerous intervening rivers rendering communication difficult and slow.

(iv) There remains an argument to which no small weight attaches and which cannot be left out of consideration. The Government of India have reason to believe—and their impressions were strongly confirmed by the enquiries of the Police Commission—that there is no portion of Bengal where the drawbacks of an imperfectly supervised administration are more evident than in these outlying districts on its eastern border, and that nowhere is the absence of close and intimate touch between the officers of Government and the people more apparent or more regrettable. The Government of India believe that it would be an undoubted advantage to Bengal to lose these elements of weakness ; and that the population and interests of the districts in question would be materially the gainers if they were brought into closer contact with the officers and the head of the local administration.

26. On the other hand the Governor General in Council thinks it not unlikely that the proposal which has been here put forward may meet with keen criticism and perhaps in parts with strenuous opposition. The lines which such opposition may be expected to take will probably be the following :—

(i) The change will doubtless be represented as one of a retrograde character, tending to place a highly advanced and civilised community under a relatively backward administration. The influence of those sections of the local population, whose associations have hitherto lain with Calcutta and who appreciate a gravitation that draws them towards the capital both of a great province and of the Government of India, will be thrown into the same scale. These objections are deserving of consideration, but they are not of course of capital importance. They were successfully and wisely disregarded in the case of Sylhet and Cachar. They were formerly advanced, but have now been waived, in the case of Chittagong. As obstacles to an agreement by common consent they may be powerful now. But their weight is one that must be measured against the vastly superior interests at stake, and that will rapidly dwindle (should the change be effected) and before long disappear. The nearest analogy that occurs to the Government of India is that of the Talukdars of Oudh, who protested vigorously against their incorporation with the North-Western Provinces nearly half a century ago, but who have long ago acquiesced in the change, and would now equally resent a reversion to the status quo ante. But there is this remarkable difference, that whereas the Talukdars were many, there are comparatively few considerable zemindars in the area under examination, and they would gain in status and consideration by becoming the recognised magnates of a self-contained and progressive province.

(ii) It is possible that objections may be advanced on judicial grounds. The Government of India can see no reason why this should be the case, since the jurisdiction of the High Court of Calcutta over these districts would remain unaltered. Mr. Melitus, the Commissioner of the Assam Valley, remembering that in 1880 the High Court themselves suggested the appointment of a Judicial Commissioner at Dacca, has revived the idea. The Government of India, as at present advised, do not see its advantages ; and they are disposed to think that the inhabitants of the district would probably prefer the continuance of the present system, which would, as Mr. Fuller has pointed out, open up an avenue to possible promotion to the eight Judges serving in Assam.

(iii) Finally, there is the argument, suggested by the Chief Commissioner himself, that if Assam were thus enlarged, it would be swamped by the area added to it, and that the change would in effect be rather the annexation of Assam by Eastern Bengal than the transfer of Eastern Bengal to Assam. To the Government of India these fears appear to be, if not exaggerated, at any rate not formidable. Moreover, as has been observed above, they are disposed to think that the predominance of a single labour question and a single industrial interest in Assam is not on the whole advantageous. The province as reconstructed would acquire a new and composite character ; but this character would not be more composite than is found in many other Indian administrations, while it would add to the importance and variety of the whole.

27. Balancing the arguments on either side, and bearing in mind the permanent considerations mentioned in paragraph 25, the Government of India are decidedly in favour of the addition of the districts of Dacca and Mymensingh, as well as of the Chittagong Division, to Assam. They believe that this transfer would be the most efficient means for securing the end that they have in view, viz., the ultimate benefit of the community, and the progressive improvement of the administration as a whole.

28. In conclusion, I am to state the figures for Bengal and Assam as they will stand, if the proposals of the Government of India are carried into execution. It will be observed that they relieve Bengal to the extent of 11 millions of pepole, and that they place Assam almost exactly upon the same level with the Central Provinces, namely, 17 millions.

I am to ask that the Government of India may be favoured with a full expression of the views of the Lieutenant-Governor on the reconstruction of Bengal that is proposed in this letter and the effect of which is summarised in the foregoing statement.

Nos. 3679—3681, dated Calcutta, the 3rd December 1903.

From—H. H. RISLEY, Esq., C.I.E., Secretary to the Government of India,

To—The Chief Secretary to the Government of Madras.

„ Honourable the Chief Commissioner of the Central Provinces.

„ Honourable the Chief Commissioner of Assam.

I am directed to enclose, for the consideration of the Governor in Council / your consideration, a copy of a letter* to the Government of Bengal containing certain proposals for reducing the territorial jurisdiction of the Lieutenant-Governor by transferring portions of it to adjacent Provinces.

*No. 3678, dated the 3rd December 1903.

2. The objects which the Government of India seek to attain by the scheme explained in the letter are—

(1) to relieve the Bengal Government of a part of the excessive burden now imposed upon it and at the same time to make provision for the more efficient administration of some of the outlying districts of the Province;

(2) to promote the development of Assam by enlarging its jurisdiction so as to give it an outlet to the sea in connexion with the Assam Bengal Railway, and to render it possible to organize independent administrative services;

(3) to unite under a single administration the scattered sections of the Uriya-speaking population, and thereby to afford both to Madras and the Central Provinces some relief from the difficulties arising from the great diversity of languages spoken in their existing jurisdictions.

3. I am now to invite the attention of the Government of Madras / your attention more particularly to paragraphs 12—15 / 9—15 / 18—27 of the letter to the Bengal Government, in which that part of the proposals affecting Madras / the Central Provinces / Assam is set forth in detail, and to request that the Government of India may be favoured with a full expression of the views of the Governor in Council / your views on the scheme.

RESOLUTION ON THE ADMINISTRATION REPORT OF THE COMMISSIONERS OF THE PORT OF CALCUTTA FOR THE YEAR 1902-1903.

No. 1972Marine.

Government of Bengal.

MARINE DEPARTMENT

Dated Calcutta, the 3rd December 1903.

RESOLUTION.

READ—

The Administration Report of the Commissioners of the Port of Calcutta for the year 1902-1903.

Revenue receipts and expenditure

The revenue realised during 1902-1903 amounted to Rs. 77,27,412, as against an estimate of Rs. 74,97,310. The receipts which were the largest on record include Rs. 81,000 realised by the settlement of an account outstanding from previous years. The expenditure amounted to Rs. 72,70,468. There was thus a net revenue of Rs. 4,56,944 on the transactions of the year. This surplus will be added to the Revenue Reserve Fund instituted by the Commissioners as a provision against temporary depreciation of revenue from transient causes and with the view of avoiding a disturbance of rates. The balance at credit of the fund with this addition is Rs. 16,74,971.

Capital expenditure.

2. A sum of Rs. 6,93,346 was expended during the year on various capital works; the expenditure was met from the revenue cash balance. The result was that less interest was earned than estimated (Rs. 48,000) on the investment of revenue cash balances; on the other hand the loan which was to have issued during the year was postponed, and there was no debit against the provision of Rs. 57,536, made in the budget estimate to meet one half-years' interest and sinking fund in respect to such loan. A sum of Rs. 2,31,010 was paid to Government, which reduced the capital debt of the Trust, which stood at Rs. 4,72,42,172 on the 31st March 1902, to Rs. 4,70,11,162.

3. Against this debt, the Commissioners hold properties, including works in progress, stock of stores, cash and securities in hand of the value of Rs. 6,16,11,559; this does not include the Strand Bank lands, the capitalized value of which would amount to a considerable sum. The position of the Commissioners with respect to their debt may, therefore, be considered satisfactory. At the same time sinking funds amounting to Rs. 38,03,617 have been accumulated by annual contributions from revenue for the extinction of the debt and may be added to the value of assets.

Depreciation and Insurance Funds.

4. The Commissioners have instituted a depreciation fund for the replacement of vessels and plant, and a fire insurance fund to make good the loss by fire and other accidents. A sum of Rs. 2,51,788 was added to the fund, and Rs. 1,33,118 were withdrawn to meet the cost of renewals of vessels and plant. The balance to the credit of the funds at the close of the year stood at Rs. 13,21,513. In view of the improvement that had taken place in the financial position of the Trust the Commissioners with the sanction of Government have reduced the charges on trade and shipping to the extent since July 1902 of Rs. 4,04,000 per annum.

Revised classification of accounts.

5. The Commissioners have adopted a revised classification of accounts by which the allocation of the receipts and expenditure is shown more clearly than hitherto.

Jetties.

6. The revenue from the jetty warehouses has been transferred from the jetties to a new head, viz., "Rentable Lands and Buildings."

The receipts from the jetties proper amounted to Rs. 11,87,893, showing a decrease of Rs. 1,39,113, as compared with those of the previous year. The volume of traffic passing over the jetties was practically unaltered; the decrease is due mainly to a reduction in the rates of landing charges and the abolition of the charges for removing goods. It is due also to the Collector of Customs having simplified the procedure for clearing goods thus enabling consignees to remove them more expeditiously.

The expenditure amounted to Rs. 5,15,289, showing a decrease of Rs. 26,407, of which Rs. 22,335 was owing to a reduction in the labour charges.

Tea warehouse.

The total receipts from the tea warehouse amounted to Rs. 1,08,342 against Rs. 1,05,201 in 1901-1902, showing a small increase of Rs. 3,141. It is proposed to substitute departmental for contract labour, with the object of effecting a reduction in the charges for handling. To meet the demands of the trade for facilities which will cheapen the handling of teas and other goods brought by inland vessels for export from Calcutta, the Commissioners propose to construct one two-storied shed for the handling of teas for direct shipment by vessels loading in the docks, and also a three-storied warehouse for sale teas. The proposal is under the consideration of the Government.

Petroleum wharf

7. The receipts from the petroleum wharf, exclusive of rents for lands and buildings, which have been transferred to a special head, amounted to Rs. 3,57,835, against Rs. 3,47,704, showing an increase of Rs. 10,031.

The total expenditure amounted to Rs. 1,12,950 against Rs. 1,63,334, showing a reduction of Rs. 50,384, the decrease being due mainly to a reduction in the charges on account of stevedoring and also in the handling charges, through bulk oil displacing case oil; the expenditure on maintenance and repairs was also reduced.

Vessels berthed at the jetties.

8. Two hundred and thirty-six vessels, with an aggregate tonnage of 734,659 tons, were berthed at the jetties during the year against 230 vessels, with a tonnage of 699,226 in the year 1901-1902. The average tonnage of vessels has increased from 3,010 to 3,112 tons. The average number of days each vessel occupied the jetties was 7·2 days.

9. As stated above, a separate account has been opened for income derived from rentable lands and buildings. A sum of Rs. 3,34,535 was realised from lands and Rs. 2,55,768 from buildings. The rates of rent of the Strand Bank lands, which have remained unchanged for many years, are now being enhanced in proportion to the increased value of the site.

Rentable lands and buildings.

10. The total receipts amounted to Rs. 11,09,302 or Rs. :9,:98 in excess of the receipts of the previous year. The expenditure also showed an increase of Rs. 77,795, leaving a surplus of Rs. 4:,294. The expenditure includes an additional contribution of Rs. 94,890 to the depreciation fund for the renewal of vessels and plant. Allowing for this, the financial position is found to have improved to the amount of Rs. 56,491. This is due partly to a reduction in the working expenses and partly to an increase in the receipts from port dues.

Port and Port Approaches.

The conditions of service of the Assistant Harbour Masters have been revised to make the service more attractive. One new survey steamer has been provided and two others are under construction to replace vessels that had become unserviceable; arrangements have been made for providing one self-contained light vessel for trial and 9 gas buoys, and the Commissioners are in communication with Mr. W. T. Douglass, the Light-house expert, regarding the improvement of the lighting of the river and its approaches, generally. The Commissioners also propose to undertake the survey of the upper reaches of the river up to the limit of the tidal waters about five miles above Nadia.

11. The Deputy Conservator's note appended to the report gives an interesting history of the changes in the channels of the river Hooghly. The condition of the bars of the river allowing for seasonal fluctuations had on the whole been fairly good throughout the year. With regard to the general question of improving the bars, Captain Petley expresses the opinion that a great improvement might be effected and the channels maintained at sufficient depth for the purpose of navigation by dredging the bars. The Commissioners therefore propose, subject to the approval of Government, to purchase a suction dredger, powerful enough to raise 5,000 tons of silt per hour, and the tenders have just been received.

Condition of the river.

The following statement illustrates the progress made in respect of the operations of the River Survey Department:—

	1885.	1900.	1901.	1902.
Miles sounded	1,295	5,364	7,231	7,164
Small river charts and notices published	20	606	718	823
Number of buoys	7	30	36	44
River marks	57	115	115	138

12. The revenue derived from the Port Trust Railway amounted to Rs. 8,03,796, while the expenditure was Rs. 5,64,448. There was thus a net revenue of Rs. 2,39,348 for the year, against Rs. 2,10,195 in the previous year, or an improvement of Rs. 29,153.

Railways.

13. The receipts from the Docks amounted to Rs. 24,43,453, against Rs. 24,14,147 in 1901-1902, while the expenditure, exclusive of interest and sinking fund charges, amounted to Rs. 22,63,706, against Rs. 22,14,895 during the year before.

Docks.

The details of the receipts and charges are given below:—

Receipts.	Rs.	Expenditure.	Rs.
Graving Dock .	2,52,615	Salaries	5,85 311
Rent and miscellaneous .	4,09,342	Working expenses ...	11,97,009
Imports	74,877	Repairs	2,33,311
Exports	16,80,191	Municipal taxes ...	1,66,075
Tugs and Hopper Barges	26,428
Total .	24,43,453	Total ...	22,63,706

The decrease in the revenue from exports was due to the unfavourable conditions of trade that prevailed during the year. The export trade suffered owing to the demand for Bengal coal having declined and to a short crop of jute. Towards the close of the year there were, however, signs of a good season of wheat and seeds, and the export of coal had commenced to revive. The prospects of the export trade during the current year appear to be more reassuring. The receipts from tolls on troops embarked and disembarked at the Docks also decreased; on the other hand additional revenue was derived from the hire of lands and buildings; and the earnings of tugs, working in connection with the Docks, previously credited to the "Port," were, during the year credited to the Docks.

After deducting the receipts of the Graving Dock, the income of the Wet Docks was Rs. 21,90,838, while the expenditure, after deducting the amount directly chargeable to the Graving Dock, amounted to Rs. 21,98,816, or Rs. 7,978 in excess of the receipts.

The expenditure of the year was, however, swollen by the payment of labour bills outstanding from 1901-1902 to the amount of Rs. 55,000, and no such outstandings were left at the close of the year under review. The dredging charges, included in Maintenance and Repairs, were higher, and the Docks were debited with the cost of dredging actually done in them. in the canal, and the entrances. These charges were previously arbitrarily divided between the Docks, Jetties, and Port. The increase in municipal taxes was due to the assessable value having increased. Allowing for these and some other smaller items, the working results of the year show an improvement over those of the previous year by about a lakh of rupees.

The Dry Dock continues to give a good return; there was a surplus of Rs. 1,81,504 on the work of the year.

New works.

14. Second Dry Dock.—The second Dry Dock will soon be ready for use. The entrance works only remain to be executed, and these are awaiting the erection of the caisson brought out from England.

Extension of grain sheds.—Five additional receiving sheds have been constructed, covering an area of about three acres. The Commissioners consider that the accommodation should be doubled to meet the growing demands of the trade.

A shed with railway platforms and sidings was erected as an adjunct to the transit sheds which the Commissioners contemplate reconstructing, as their storage capacity is found quite inadequate for the cargoes of the larger steamers now trading to the port.

Improvement of shed in No. 14 berth.—The west side of the tidal basin (shed No. 14) is being converted into a properly-equipped berth for the export produce.

Extension of coal jetties.—An extension of the coal jetties has been taken in hand.

Minor works in the Docks.—Minor works, including a dispensary, lock-fast enclosures for the safe custody of valuable cargo, two houses for the Dock Officers, and the construction of a tug for the assistance of vessels moving from one berth to another in the Docks.

Warehouse at jetties.—A large warehouse at a cost of Rs. 3,20,000 has been sanctioned for the storage of cargo waiting delivery. It is proposed to reconstruct the transit sheds at the jetties in order to provide additional accommodation for the cargoes of the class of vessels now visiting the port.

Special tolls.

15. A sum of Rs. 9,66,248 was realised as the River dues, against Rs. 9,96,636 during 1902-1903.

Wireless telegraphy.

16. The Commissioners' Electrician, while at home, has been instructed to make enquiries and report what system of wireless telegraphy should be adopted. The results of the investigations of the Government Telegraph Department are also awaited.

17. Mr. F. G. Dumayne held the office of Vice-Chairman throughout the year. The thanks of the Lieutenant-Governor are due to him and the Commissioners for the able management of the Trust during the year under review.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

W. A. INGLIS,

Offg. Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

FINAL FORECAST OF THE BHADOI CROPS OF BENGAL, 1903.

THE following note is published for general information.

A. EARLE,
Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

The 12th December 1903.

DEPARTMENT OF LAND RECORDS AND AGRICULTURE, BENGAL.

Final Forecast of the Bhadoi crops of Bengal, 1903.

Explanatory.—The chief bhadoi food crops of the Province are—

(a) Cereals —Bhadoi paddy, Indian corn, jowar or the large millet, bajra or the spiked millet, and the various small millets, marua, kodo, cheena, shyalnaja or kaon, shama, bhura, gondli, laio, serua, and sira.

(b) Pulses.—Barbati or ghangra, bhadoi kalai and mung, and motki or bhringi. Other bhadoi food-crops consist of vegetables and pot-herbs.

The chief bhadoi non-food-crops are jute, indigo, and cotton, for which separate forecasts are issued. Bhadoi til is included in the oil-seed forecast.

Bhadoi paddy is chiefly grown in Bengal proper and in Orissa, where it occupies 60 per cent. of the total bhadoi food-crop area. Maize and millets predominate in Bihar, and they occupy 26 per cent. of the bhadoi food-crop area of Bihar.

2. Character of the season.—In March there were fairly good showers throughout Bengal proper, but Bihar and Chota Nagpur had little rainfall at this time. The fall in April and May was in defect everywhere, except in Chota Nagpur, and the deficiency continued through June all over the Province, except in North Bengal, the northern parts of the north Gangetic districts of Bihar, some parts of the Presidency Division, and in Dacca, Mymensingh, Tippera and Noakhali in East Bengal. The rainfall in July also partook of the character of local showers. It was seriously defective in Birbhum, Murshidabad, in all the districts of the Patna Division, in Hazaribagh, Manbhum and Palamau. During August the deficiency continued, but North Bengal, East Bengal (except Backergunge, and Noakhali) and the districts of Birbhum, Saran, Champaran, Muzaffarpur, Bhagalpur, and Monghyr received rainfall above the normal. In September the rainfall though light was frequent. Early in October and again towards the end heavy fall occurred. The defect in the early part of the season and the heavy rainfall at and after harvest were not favourable for these crops.

3. Area sown.—The District Officers of Bogra, Tippera, Purnea and Ranchi have submitted revised figures for normal area, thus 13,205,900 acres are shown in Appendix I of this report as the normal area under bhadoi crops this year against 13,007,100 acres shown last year. The area actually sown this year with bhadoi crops is reported to be 12,162,200 acres as compared to 12,636,800 acres cultivated last year. Of this the bhadoi food crops occupy 11,703,900 acres against 12,152,200 acres under these crops last year. The area under indigo, jute, cotton and bhadoi til, which are dealt with in other forecasts, are not included in these figures.

4. Character of the crop.—It will be seen from Appendix I that only five districts, viz., Darjeeling, Dacca, Tippera, Balasore and Hazaribagh report a crop of 100 per cent. or more. In eight districts, viz., 24-Parganas, Rangpur, Mymensingh, Darbhanga, Cuttack, Angul, Puri, and Manbhum, the outturn is estimated at between 90 and 99 per cent. The districts returning a crop of from 70 to 89 per cent. are Midnapore, Hooghly, Dinajpur, Bogra, Gaya, Champaran, Birbhum, Bankura, Nadia, Jessore, Khulna, Jalpaiguri, Pabna, Faridpur, Backergunge, Noakhali, Saran, Purnea, Sonthal Parganas, Ranchi, Palamau, and Singhbhum. Burdwan, Murshidabad, Rajshahi, Chittagong, Muzaffarpur, and Malda report a crop of 60 to 69 per cent.; Patna reports a 53 per cent. crop, Monghyr and Bhagalpur 57 per cent., and Shahabad 44 per cent. crop. Since the issue of the preliminary forecast last September, prospects improved in 23 districts, remained unchanged in 18, and they deteriorated in 4.

According to the estimates of the District Officers, the total outturn for the Province as a whole of the various bhadoi crops dealt with in this forecast amounts to 79 per cent. of a normal crop. I see no reason to modify my original estimate of 80 per cent. for the whole Province.

5. Outturn.—Except in the case of bhadoi paddy we have no means at present of estimating the outturn of these crops. Taking 80 per cent. as the probable outturn of bhadoi paddy this year, the gross outturn of cleaned bhadoi rice may be estimated at 41,664,800 cwts., as compared with 47,419,100 cwts., which was the outturn estimated last year.

S. L. MADDOX,

Offg. Director of the Department of Land Records and Agriculture, Bengal.

FINAL FORECAST OF THE WINTER RICE CROP OF BENGAL, 1903.

THE following note is published for general information.

A. EARLE,
Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

The 12th December 1903.

DEPARTMENT OF LAND RECORDS AND AGRICULTURE, BENGAL.

Final Forecast of the Winter Rice Crop of Bengal, 1903.

Character of the Season.—The rainfall of the season from May to November is given in Appendix II of this report. The ante-monsoon showers were seriously defective throughout the Province except in Ranchi. This defect continued through June all over, except in North Bengal, the northern parts of the North Gangetic districts of Bihar, some parts of the Presidency Division, and in Dacca, Mymensingh, Tippera and Noakhali. In July rainfall was alarmingly defective in Birbhum, Murshidabad, all the districts of the Patna Division (especially the tracts north and south of the Ganges) in Hazaribagh, in Manbhum and in Palamau. During August the deficiency continued, but North Bengal, East Bengal (excepting Backergunge and Noakhali) and the districts of Birbhum, Saran, Champaran, Muzuffarpur, Bhagalpur and Monghyr received rainfall above the normal. In many districts paddy was resown in August, as the seedlings of the earlier sowing had either withered or became too woody for transplanting. In September the rainfall was of almost daily occurrence over a great part of the Province, but the showers were usually light, and the rainfall for the month as a whole was below the average over the northern districts. Heavy rains occurred nearly throughout the Province early and again late in October, more specially in the south western districts. These falls were all largely in excess of the normal for the month except in East Bengal, where the excess was only about half an inch. In Chota Nagpur the fall was three times, and in Bihar and Orissa about double, of the normal. In November light but scattered showers were obtained all over the Province except in the Patna and Bhagalpur Divisions. For the paddy crop it is most essential to have plenty of water on the ground when the plants are coming to ear, and in this matter the season has been most favourable throughout the Province. But the defect in rainfall which was not made up even to the end of the season, except in Orissa and in North Bengal, affected not only the area sown, but also the growth of the plants. So, although failure of rainfall at the end would have proved disastrous, the season was not altogether favourable for the crop.

2. Area cultivated.—Since the issue of the preliminary forecast, the Subdivisional Officer of Bhola has submitted revised figures for normal area. The total normal area under winter rice in the whole Province is now estimated at 30,554,600 acres. The area estimated to be under the crop this year is 27,561,000 acres against 29,778,700 acres sown last year.

3. Character of the crop.—The following districts estimate a bumper crop, i.e., a crop varying from 100 to 110 per cent.—Dinajpur, Darjeeling, Bogra, Dacca, Mymensingh, Tippera, Faridpur, Purnea, and Angul. The districts returning a crop of 90 to 99 per cent. are Hooghly, 24-Parganas, Khulna, Rangpur, Pabna, Backergunge, Noakhali, Chittagong, Champaran, Darbhanga, Cuttack, Balasore, Puri, and Ranchi. The districts returning a crop of 70 to 89 per cent. are Bankura, Midnapore, Jessore, Rajshahi, Jalpaiguri, Gaya, Muzaffarpur, Singhbhum, Birbhum, Nadia, Patna, Shahabad, Saran, Malda, Sonthal Parganas, Hazaribagh, Palamau, and Manbhum. Burdwan, Murshidabad, and Bhagalpur have returned an estimate of 60 to 69 per cent., and Monghyr only 38 per cent. The following subdivisions have reported a crop of 50 per cent. or less: Meherpur, Berhampore, Hajipur, Samastipur, Godda, Bhagalpur, and Jamui, the last named subdivision returning only a 20 per cent. crop.

A comparison of the present estimates of outturn with the estimates given in the preliminary forecast shows that in 29 districts the prospects of the crop have improved, that in 10 they have remained unchanged, and that they have deteriorated in 6.

According to the estimates of the District Officers, the outturn of the Province as a whole is an 88 per cent. crop. In my preliminary forecast, which was dated the 7th October, the favourable conditions as to rain in the latter part of the season were recognised, and I had raised the district estimate of 82 per cent. to 87, and an estimate of a 90 per cent. crop may be accepted for the Province.

4. Outturn.—Taking the Provincial estimate at 90 per cent. the gross outturn on 27,561,000 acres should amount to 273,360,100 cwts. of cleaned rice against 308,483,000 cwts. obtained last year.

(b) The increase as compared with the preliminary forecast is due to the rainfall in September last, when more lands were cultivated and which improved the state of the crop. The crops are very fine in some places though bad in others. I think two-thirds of the average a fair estimate.

The recent rain did some good to the crops; otherwise the outturn would have been shorter than what was anticipated in the preliminary forecast.

My own enquiries in Thakurgaon led me to think that the crop will be at least an average one, and 100 per cent. in both cases will not be, I think, too high an estimate.

SUMMARY OF THE METEOROLOGICAL AND RAINFALL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN BENGAL, AND OF THE METEOROLOGICAL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN ASSAM, FOR THE MONTH OF NOVEMBER 1903.

AT the end of October a cyclonic storm had moved north-eastward from the south of the Peninsula towards Bengal and was causing heavy rainfall in the southern districts. At the beginning of November only a very slight residual depression remained, but weather was not quite settled in Bengal until the 3rd, and showers were falling, more especially in East Bengal. It is mainly owing to the heavy falls on the 1st and to the moderately heavy though less general rainfall on the 2nd that the average fall for the month in East Bengal is more than double the normal.

With the filling up of the depression about the 2nd or 3rd, weather in Bengal and over the north of the Bay became of ordinary cold season character. The pressure gradient became steeper from north to south, strongish northerly winds developed, and the area of disturbance was again transferred to the south of the Bay, where small cyclonic disturbances, with squally weather, formed in rapid succession. The shallow depressions to which these disturbances were due moved westward towards Madras and caused exceptionally heavy rain in the south of the Peninsula.

It is probable that the two depressions which formed during the first-half of the month, and caused the rainfall in Madras, developed over the south-west of the Bay, and were in that respect different from the depression which moved from the south into the north of the Bay on the 14th. That depression which caused the most severe storm of the present year probably formed in the equatorial region to the south of the Nicobars. It moved with exceptional rapidity north-westward and was over the south of the Bay on the 13th and in the central area on the morning of the 14th. Recurving then began, and with similar rapid motion it turned gradually eastward and broke up in the neighbourhood of Akyab on the 15th. The rate of advance was about 15 miles an hour.

Weather during that disturbance was not seriously affected at any of the coast stations, but the shipping in its course experienced for some hours a storm of exceptional severity.

It appears probable that the storm became less severe as it approached the Arakan coast. The rate of advance certainly diminished, and there was unusual delay in the final disappearance of the disturbance after it passed the coast line.

During the advance of the storm northward the sky became heavily clouded in Lower Bengal, and showers fell in places. The only rainfall of importance was in East Bengal, chiefly in Noakhali and Chittagong, where several stations received more than 1 inch, and Cox's Bazar and Bandarban more than 2 inches. The somewhat threatening aspect of the weather in Orissa and South-West Bengal passed rapidly away as the storm recurved towards Arakan.

One important feature of weather conditions in the south-west of the Bay in the middle of November was the rapid change as regards rainfall in Madras. Whether that change was due to the cyclonic disturbance in the east of the Bay or not, a period of unusual rainfall came to an end exactly at the time the storm entered the Bay; and after its passage there was no renewal of north-east monsoon conditions on the Madras Coast until towards the end of the month.

On the 16th November pressure was lowest in Arakan, an after-effect of the storm of the previous day. There was a rather large defect over the whole of Bengal and winds were westerly in direction. Temperature which was high during the approach of the storm had fallen, and means were generally below the normal. After the rapid increase of pressure on the 17th ordinary cold season conditions were re-established, and cool north-westerly winds passed from Bengal southwards over the Bay. This cool weather was most marked in the western districts and continued longer there than in Bengal Proper, where by the 22nd temperature was again in excess.

On the 25th temperature was high over the whole Province. The steady slow increase of the previous days was probably due to a shallow depression in the south of the Bay between the 25th and 27th. Weather was only slightly disturbed, but heavy rain again fell on part of the Madras Coast, and the cloud extended northwards as far as Bengal. A few showers fell in Orissa and Lower Bengal on the 28th and 29th.

On the 30th pressure was rising, northerly winds were stronger at the head of the Bay, and a cold wave was advancing southwards over the Province.

Pressure underwent considerable variations over the Bay, but these were more in the south than over Bengal or in the north of the Bay, except about the middle of the month, when a depression of more than average depth entered the north of the Bay, and passing rapidly north-eastward, filled up slowly over Arakan. The greatest depth in the central area while the depression was over the north of the Bay was more than half an inch as compared with the normal, and the lowest pressure observed was just above 29 inches. The observatory nearest the centre of the depression when it approached the coast was Akyab, and there the barometer appears not to have fallen below 29·6 inches.

The tendency for depressions to move northwards from the south of the Bay was more noticeable than usual in November. A depression had recurved northwards at the end of October, and besides the deep depression in the middle of November a shallow depression turned northwards from the Madras coast in a diffused condition at the end of the month. The greatest pressure oscillations in Bengal occurred at these times, and the defect which then developed was slower than usual in passing away. In consequence the mean pressure for the month is below the normal, though not by large amounts in Bengal and over the north of the Bay.

Temperature increased when weather was disturbed in the south of the Bay, and, as usually happens, while the depressions were moving northwards. After the depressions disappeared and a steeper pressure gradient formed with stronger northerly winds, cool weather for the season prevailed. The excess was not of long duration, and defect was not usually large. Hence the mean variation from the normal for the month is generally small. In Assam and East Bengal there was a small excess; in South-West and North Bengal and Orissa a small defect, and in Chota Nagpur and Bihar a considerable defect, amounting in the former to 1°·8 and in the latter district to 1°.

Rainfall was nil in Bihar and practically nil in Chota Nagpur and Bihar throughout the month. In the southern parts of the Province rain fell on three occasions, at the beginning of the month, in the middle and at the end, in connection with the three disturbances, which, as stated above, moved northwards from the south of the Bay. These showers were most general and heavy on the 1st and 2nd, but a few heavy showers fell in Chittagong and Noakhali on the 15th.

East Bengal received on an average 2·2 inches, more than double the normal; Orissa 1·1 inches and South-West Bengal 0·4 inch, these being about 60 per cent. of the normal.

All the Assam stations received more than the usual amount in November, except Dhubri. The total fall at Cherapoonjee was 11 inches, and the normal is less than 1 inch. The greater part of that amount fell on 1st November, when more than 10 inches was recorded.

The following table gives in a condensed form the rainfall information for each of the six large meteorological divisions of Bengal for the present year up to the close of November. The numbers there given, as in the case of the former months of the year, are the actual average rainfalls in each division, expressed as a percentage of the normal fall for the period, and the last column also gives the total rainfall up to the close of November, expressed in the same way:—

The mean pressure, temperature, etc., are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph and from eye observations.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard, Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground Rainfall reported on any day is for 24 hours preceding 8 A.M. of that day.

The said Promissory Notes shall be absolutely payable in any event, and the amount thereof shall be absolutely forfeited upon such default as before mentioned, and the amount thereof shall not go or be credited in reduction of any loss on re-sale or expenses thereby incurred; but shall be recoverable whether such re-sale shall be had or not, or whether there shall be a loss on such re-sale or not.

7. The Promissory Notes taken on the day of sale under the fifth condition, if remaining unredeemed at 3-30 P.M. of the fifth day following the day of sale, or 1-30 P.M., if the last day falls on a Saturday, will be placed in the hands of the Solicitor to the Government for realization in such manner as to him shall seem fit.

8. No tender of money, Bank of Bengal receipts, or public securities, on account of opium upon which the prescribed deposit may not have been made before the prescribed time in clause 5 on the fifth day following the day of sale, will be afterwards accepted. Provided always that money so subsequently tendered may be taken in payment of the said Promissory Note, but such acceptance of money shall in no way entitle the payer thereof to any right to delivery of the lot or lots in respect whereof the said note was given, or to any of the rights of a purchaser thereof, or release the payer from liability for any unpaid balance of such notes or from the additional liability for the loss and expenses of such re-sale as provided for in clauses No. 5 and No. 6.

9. The opium advertised for sale shall be paid for not later than by 3-30 P.M. of the fifteenth day from the day of sale, provided it does not fall on a Saturday; if it falls on a Saturday, the opium must be paid for by 1-30 P.M.; and in case any lots of such opium shall not be so paid for and adjusted, then the cash deposit made under the fifth condition, or any public securities that may have been deposited on account of such lots or chests, shall be forfeited, and the opium shall be disposed of on account of Government at such time and in such manner as the Board of Revenue shall think fit; and the first purchaser shall further be required to make good all expenses and any loss or difference of price between that obtained at the re-sale and the amount at which the opium was first purchased, forfeiting all advantages that may arise from such re-sale, and the liability for the loss or difference of price and expenses shall be in addition to, and wholly independent of, the amount of the deposit so forfeited.

10. Purchasers taking out certificates or orders for the delivery of opium, after making full payment as above prescribed, shall have the option of naming the number of lots of their purchase, which they may desire to be included in each certificate or order; and it is to be clearly understood that the certificates or orders so taken out shall be considered final, and not afterwards changeable for other certificates or orders authorising the delivery of single lots, or of a different number of lots or chests, whether more or less, than the number of lots or chests ordinarily required to be included in each certificate or order.

11. No deposit of public securities under the fifth of the present conditions will be received in this office except from the party recorded as the purchaser in the sale-book, or his authorized agent. The receipt for deposit of public securities will be granted only in the name of such purchaser, and the securities so deposited will be returned when payment in full has been made by the said purchaser or his order.

12. The officer superintending the sale on the part of the Government is empowered to reject, at his discretion, the bid of any individual, unless such individual shall on demand render at the time a deposit either in Government of India Notes, Bank of Bengal receipts, or Government securities, a sum equal to the amount for which a Promissory Note would otherwise be taken under the fifth of these conditions.

13. With a view to prevent fictitious biddings designed to obstruct the sale, it is hereby notified that the officer of Government superintending the sale shall be competent, at any time during the sale, to withdraw any unsold lot, and immediately to put it up again for sale at a maximum upset price, diminishing the same gradually by Rs. 5 at a time until a bid is obtained; and the first boná fide bidder for a lot, after it has been offered for sale in the mode here described, shall be held and declared to be the purchaser of the said lot, and the officer of Government superintending the sale shall also be competent to dispose, in the same manner, of as many of the subsequent lots as he may think proper, provided always that no lot shall be sold below the minimum price of Rs. 800 specified in the second of these conditions.

14. The purchaser of any lot shall have the option of naming and purchasing in immediate succession, at the same price and under the same conditions, any number of lots of the same Agency opium not exceeding altogether twenty-five lots, provided always that there remain a sufficient number of lots of the opium to complete the said twenty-five.

15. In the event of any dispute or difference touching or concerning any matter or question arising out of the sale of the opium included in this notification, or adjustment of the account thereof, the same shall and may be tried and decided in the High Court of Judicature at Fort William in Bengal.

16. The following papers will be exhibited for inspection on the day of sale, or may be seen previously to that date by personal application at the Office of the Board of Revenue:—No. 1, Certificate of the opium advertised for sale; No. 2, Report of the examination of such opium.

17. The public are hereby informed that in providing the investment of the opium manufactured at the Patna Factory and the opium manufactured at the Ghazipur Factory for the year 1902-1903, the same precautions have been taken as those which have been observed during past years to have the drug procured and sent down in a pure state, to have only the prescribed quantity of leaves used in forming the cakes, and to have the due proportion of opium put into each cake. An account of the weight of the drug, when packed at the Patna and Ghazipur Factories, and a statement of the average weight of the chests, indiscriminately taken, for the purpose of comparison, from the despatches on arrival at Calcutta, may be seen on personal application at the Office of the Board of Revenue.

18. Any further information respecting weight or quality of the opium advertised for sale that may be desired by parties connected with the trade will, as heretofore, be furnished to them on personal application at the Office of the Board of Revenue. But, in accordance with established usage, under no circumstances will the Board of Revenue entertain or recognize any claim to compensation for loss from any alleged deficiency of weight, abstraction of opium, or adulteration of the drug, which may be preferred on reference to chests after the sale and delivery of the opium for shipment.

READ—

Annual Reports and Accounts of the District Road Funds and District Road Accounts in the districts of Darjeeling, Singhbhum, Sonthal Parganas, and Chittagong Hill Tracts for the year 1902-1903, received from the Commissioners of Divisions concerned.

Read again—

Annual Reports and Accounts of the District Road Funds and District Road Accounts in Bengal for the previous year and the review thereof.

REMARKS.—The Bengal Local Self-Government Act of 1885 was in force in 1902-1903 in all the districts of the Province except the following:—

Darjeeling.	Sonthal Parganas.
Singhbhum.	Chittagong Hill Tracts.

In the Darjeeling district and in the Dhalbhum and Porahat parganas of the Singhbhum district the Cess Act of 1880 was in force during the year under review. It was also in force in certain tracts of the Sonthal Parganas from 1st September 1901, while the other parganas of the Singhbhum district and other tracts of the Sonthal Parganas and the Chittagong Hill Tracts district were not under the operation of either of the above Acts.

RECEIPTS.

2. In the districts in which the Cess Act was in force, the cess was levied at the maximum rate allowed by law. In the tracts of the Sonthal Parganas, however, in which the Cess Act was introduced, there were no cess collections during the year. In those districts which were not under the operation of the Act, and in which therefore there were no cess collections, funds were provided by grants-in-aid. The receipts for the year 1902-1903, compared with those of the previous years, are shown below :—

3. The decrease under "Cess on lands" and "Cess on mines" in the Darjeeling district was mainly due to the payment in advance on account of some estates during the previous year. In the Singhbhum district the increase under "Cess on lands" was due to the annual valuation of forest mines and the revaluation of Pargana Dhalbhum, which took effect at the beginning of the year, and the decrease under "Cess on mines and railways" was owing to the reduction in the assessments on mines, quarries, and jungles.

4. In the Chittagong Hill Tracts the sum of Rs. 10,000, sanctioned in Bengal Government, Public Works Department letter No. 844T.C., dated 20th June 1902, for opening out the Rangamati-Mahalsury Road and improving the Chandraghona-Bandarban and Bandarban-Suvalong Roads, and the station metalled road at Rangamati, has been included under grant from Government. It should have been included under "Deposits" for Provincial Civil Works.

6. In Darjeeling the year opened with a balance of Rs. 13,676, but it closed with a balance of Rs. 16,932. This closing balance was more than one quarter of the year's receipts of the Committee, that is, above the limit prescribed in paragraph 9 of the Resolution No. 4228R.C., dated 18th December 1885. The closing balance of the Sonthal Parganas was also excessive.

7. In Chittagong Hill Tracts the sum of Rs. 8,905 shown under "Original Works—Communications" represents the expenditure on the four works alluded to in paragraph 4 above. It should have been included under "Deposits" for Provincial Civil Works.

8. Of the total expenditure incurred during the year, Rs. 1,07,780 was devoted to Civil Works, while the outlay under other sub-heads, exclusive of "Suspense Accounts," was Rs. 25,820 in the aggregate. The distribution of the outlay on Civil Works is as follows:—

9. Original Works.—No new works were carried out during the year in the district of Darjeeling. The road-cess bridges, destroyed by the storm of 1899, have since been reconstructed and made over to the Road Cess Committee by the Public Works Department. The Committee has, however, again placed them in charge of the Public Works Department for repairs, the necessary cost to be borne by the District Road Fund. The principal works carried out in the other districts during the year 1902-1903 are as follows:—

Singhbhum district—

(1) Improving Chaibassa-Jyntgurh and Katbari Roads.
(2) Constructing Anundapur Monohurpur Road.
(3) Ditto Koali-Kalimati Feeder Road.
(4) Earthwork on Chakradharpur-Goilkera and Gamaria-Jamda Roads.

* Inclusive of expenditure incurred on Works and Repairs under Land Revenue and on Imperial and Provincial Civil Works.

† Exclusive of pay and allowance of Public Works Department Subordinate lent to the Committee, who was paid direct by Government.

‡ Inclusive of expenditure incurred on Imperial and Provincial Civil Works.

In the Darjeeling district the very low percentage is due to the fact that no Engineer was employed: all the works and repairs in the hills of the district and most of those in the Terai were executed by the members of the Committee and other private gentlemen to whom the thanks of Government are due for their assistance. The sum of Rs. 1,052 spent under this head was for the Public Works establishment in the Terai subdivision only. The percentage in the district of Sonthal Parganas is high. In this district the charges for establishment during the year were Rs. 16,903, against Rs. 15,259 of the previous year.

ORDER—Ordered that a copy of this Resolution, together with the Annual Accounts of the several District Road Funds and District Road Account, and abstracts from the Reports of the Chairmen of the several District Road Committees be published in Part II of the Calcutta Gazette.

Ordered also that a copy of this Resolution be forwarded for information to the—

Commissioners of the Rajshahi, Bhagalpur, Chittagong, and Chota Nagpur Divisions;
Superintending Engineers of the Northern and Western Circles;
Inspectors of Works, Bhagalpur and Eastern Circles;
Accountant-General, Bengal;
Board of Revenue, Lower Provinces;
Financial Department of this Government.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

R. G. KENNEDY,

Offg. Secretary to the Govt. of Bengal.

Abstract of the Report by the Chairman, District Road Committee of Darjeeling, on the operations of the District Road Fund of the district for the year 1902-1903.

[Vide letter No. 79R.F., dated 29th June / 3rd July 1903, from J. H. E. Garrett, Esq., I.C.S., Chairman of the District Road Cess Committee, Darjeeling, to the Commissioner of the Rajshahi Division.]

Working of the Committees.—(a) District Road Committee.—There were 18 members of the Committee—5 official and 13 non-official. Five meetings were held during the year. The average attendance was 9·2, or 51·1 per cent.

(b) Kurseong Branch Committee.—The total number of members was 9—2 official and 7 non-official. There were five meetings during the year. The average attendance was 3, or 33·3 per cent. The falling off in the average attendance is due to the resignation of certain active members during the year.

(c) Terai Branch Committee.—The Committee consisted of 18 members—6 official and 12 non-official. Six meetings were held during the year, the average attendance being 6·6, or 36·6 per cent. The native members of the Committee appear to have been more regular than before, and there is a little improvement in the average attendance.

2. The year opened with a cash balance of Rs. 13,675-14-1 and unadjusted advances amounting to Rs. 1,032-10-3. The sum of Rs. 41,223-4-10, including the receipts (Rs. 26,514-12-6) of the year, was available for expenditure. The expenditure during the year was Rs. 23,687-0-5 and the balance at the close of the year was Rs. 16,931-12-3, excluding the unadjusted advances, Rs. 604-8-2, outstanding at the end of the year. The closing balance was more than one quarter of the year's receipts of the Committee which was due to the Committee having been allowed to accumulate its funds as directed in Government letter No. 5106R.C., dated the 26th September 1892.

RECEIPTS.

3. Collections.—The road cess was levied in the district at the maximum rate of six pies per rupee during the year. Rupees 20,694-7-9 were realised as cess on lands and Rs. 389-1-11 on account of cess on mines, &c., making a total of Rs. 21,083-9-8, against Rs. 21,729-3-4 of the last year. The decrease of Rs. 645-9-8 was mainly due to the payment in advance on account of some of the estates during the previous year.

4. Contributions—

(a) Grant from Government.—The grant of 1½ per cent. collection from Government and other estates was Rs. 2,393-3-2, and the Government and Darjeeling Improvement Fund shares of the cost of joint cess and tauzi establishment were Rs. 669-8-4 and Rs. 42, respectively. The increase of Rs. 108-11-9, on account of 1½ per cent. collection, was due to the increase of revenue of Government estates.

(b) The usual contribution of Rs. 2,000 for communications and a special contribution of Rs. 300 for a bridge over Rongbong Jhora, above Namsu, were received from the Darjeeling Improvement Fund during the year 1902-1903.

EXPENDITURE.

5. Original Works—Communications.—No money has been spent by the Fund for Original Works during the year. The Road-cess bridges destroyed by the storm of 1899 have since been reconstructed and made over to the Road Cess Committee by the Public Works Department. The Committee has, however, again placed them in the charge of the Public Works Department for repairs, the necessary cost to be borne by the District Road Fund.

6. Repairs—Communications.—The total expenditure under this head was Rs. 11,328-8-4 as detailed below:—

Name of the Committee.	Particulars of expenditure.	Amount. Rs. A. P.	Total. Rs. A. P.
District Road Committee, Darjeeling.	Roads ...	4,376 13 2	4,526 13 2

	Total ...	......	11,250 8 10
Hills and Terai ...	Village roads	......	77 15 6
	Total of repairs ...	......	11,328 8 4

There is a decrease of Rs. 7,244-4-6, which was mainly due to the adjustment, during the year 1901-1902, of large advances outstanding from previous years.

7. Two hundred and ninety-seven miles of unmetalled district roads were repaired at a cost of Rs. 11,251, or Rs. 37·8 per mile, and 8 miles of village roads at a cost of Rs. 78, or Rs. 9·7 per mile. The sum of Rs. 150 only was spent for the maintenance of certain bridges under the District Road Committee. The decrease in the cost per mile of the district and village roads was due to the circumstances explained in paragraph 6.

8. Loan.—No fresh loan was taken during the year. The sums of Rs. 3,549-9-8, principal, and Rs. 3,761-8, interest, were paid during the year on account of the loans granted by Government for the reconstruction and repairs of the road cess bridges destroyed by the catastrophe of September 1899.

9. Public Works Establishment.—The Committee did not entertain any Engineer during the year 1902-1903; all the works in the hills and most of them in the Terai having been, as usual, done by the members of the Committee and other private gentlemen to whom the Committee is thankful for their kind help. The sum of Rs. 1,026-7-10 was spent for entertaining an Overseer and a peon for the Terai Branch Road Committee. The pay of the former was Rs. 60 with a fixed horse allowance of Rs. 20 and that of the latter Rs. 7 per mensem. Rupees 25-4 were spent for their contingencies.

10. Audit of Accounts.—The members of the Sub-Committee have audited the accounts of the whole year. The Examiner of Local Accounts, Bengal, has audited the accounts up to October 1902.

DISTRICT ROAD FUND OFFICE,
DARJEELING;
The 29th June 1903.

Abstract of the Report by the Chairman, District Road Committee of Singhbhum, on the operations of the District Road Fund of the district for the year 1902-1903.

[Vide letter No. 28 R.C., dated 14th/22nd May 1903, from J. C. TWIDELL, ESQ., I.C.S., Chairman, District Road Committee, Singhbhum, to the Commissioner of the Chota Nagpur Division.]

1. Working of the Committee.—During the year the Committee held seven meetings for the transaction of business against six in the previous year, and in all of them a sufficient number of members was present to form a quorum, the average attendance being 6·5 against 5·8 in the preceding year.

2. The accounts were as usual audited by a Sub-Committee appointed under section 174 of the Act. The Local Auditor inspected the accounts for the period from 1st June 1901 to 31st August 1902.

RECEIPTS.

3. The road cess in this district continued to be levied at the maximum rates prescribed by law. The current demand on account of cess on lands and mines, etc., during the year was Rs. 11,403, against Rs. 13,025 in the previous year. The annual valuation of forests, mines, and the revaluation of pargana Dhalbhum, which took effect in the beginning of the year, brought an increase of Rs. 2,138 in the demand, but, on the other hand, there has been a decrease of Rs. 3,760 owing to reduction in assessments on mines, quarries, and jungles. The arrears due for 1901-1902 were Rs. 2,217. This, together with Rs. 11,403, the demand for the year, gave a total of Rs. 13,620 for collection within the year. Of this, Rs. 10,090 were collected, leaving a balance, outstanding on 31st March 1903, of Rs. 3,530. In addition to the above, a sum of Rs. 4 was collected in advance on account of the ensuing year 1903-1904. The percentage of collection on current demand is 88·52. Most of the arrears due at the close of the year were due from the zamindar of pargana Dhalbhum. Including miscellaneous receipts, Government grants, and an opening balance of Rs. 3,354-11-2, the income available for expenditure during the year was Rs. 28,795-2-11. Of this, Rs. 4,184 was refunded to assessees, who were wrongly assessed in 1900-1901.

EXPENDITURE.

4. Civil buildings—Repairs.—The road-cess building at Chaibassa was repaired at a cost of Rs. 102-4, the sanctioned allotment being Rs. 100.

5. Communications—Original works.—The following original and improvement works were done during the year at a cost of Rs. 9,652, against the budget grant of Rs. 10,800 :—

(a) Chaibassa-Jyntgurh and Katbari Roads.—Gravel was put over heavy portions, aggregating about nine miles in length; three light bridges with pucca abutments and wooden platforms were constructed on 17th, 18th, and 19th miles of the Jyntgurh Road.

(b) Chakradharpur-Goilkera and Gamaria-Jamda Roads.—Earthwork for about 13 miles was done. Collection of gravel for about three miles was made.

(c) Construction of Koâli-Kalimati Feeder Road.—The work of this road has been taken up since 1900-1901. Earthworks with timber culverts on the first section of this road have been done.

(d) Anundpur-Manoharpur Feeder Road.—The construction of this road has been taken up from 1900-1901; the total sanctioned estimated cost being Rs. 4,930, of which Rs. 1,830 were expended up to the 31st March 1902. There was a provision of Rs. 800 in the original budget estimate for 1902-1903. Adding to this Rs. 2,300 received as special grant from Government for the completion of this road, the total allotment rose to Rs. 3,100 in the revised budget. Of this, Rs. 2,548-4-7 were actually paid during the year. The Thakur of Anundpur gave some timbers gratis and some at half-rates to the District Road Cess Committee.

6. Repairs.—There are altogether 23 roads, aggregating about 438 miles in length. Of this, 11 miles of the Koâli-Kalimati Feeder Road are under construction. The works chiefly consisted of the annual maintenance of these roads, including repairs to bridges, culverts, flanks, road surfaces, side trenches, etc.

7. Village roads, about 17·5 miles in Kolhan, have been repaired and made passable for cart traffic.

8. The following statement shows the length of district roads (metalled and unmetalled) and village roads, the amount spent on the maintenance of roads, and the cost per mile :—

No roads are maintained by the District Road Cess Committee from Public Works Funds.

9. Arboriculture.—Three hundred and twenty new trees were planted during the year These, together with 670 of previous years, gave a total of 990 plants for maintenance during the year. The cost incurred in maintaining them was Rs. 314 during the year as against Rs. 505 in the previous year. The existing trees were reported to be in good condition.

10. Nursery—There are five nursery gardens—one at Chaibassa, on the south bank of the Jubilee tank, containing about 500 plants; one at Bees, containing about 300 plants; one at Thulko, containing 200 plants; one at Gamaria, containing 200 plants; and one at Jorapukur, containing about 200 plants. The plants were reported to be flourishing.

11. The following statement compares the cost of maintenance during the year for the several classes of roads with that of the previous year and the average cost per mile :—

Classification of district roads.	Length.		Expenditure incurred.		Average cost per mile.
	1901-1902.	1902-1903.	1901-1902.	1902-1903.	1901-1902.	1902-1903.
	Miles.	Miles.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs
Class II roads, partially bridged and drained	140	140	3,978	3,782	28·41	27·01
Class III roads, banked or surfaced with muram, etc.	20	20	714	877	35·7	43 85
Class IV roads, banked but not surfaced, but partially bridged or drained.	13	13	323	395	24 84	30 38
Class V roads, cleared, partially bridged or drained	162	162	2,138	1,274	13 19	7·86
Village roads	22	17 5	253	441	11·5	25 2

The high percentage in the expenditure incurred in maintaining village roads during 1902-1903 is due to the fact that the Dumbisai-Mahulsai Road was found to be so badly in need of repairs as practically to require reconstruction. As there were savings, Rs. 328 were spent on this road, which is very useful. The balance (Rs. 113) was spent on four other village roads which required repairs in the usual way.

12. No famine-relief operations were carried out during the year.

13. The following table compares the revenue of the District Road Cess Committee (excluding opening balance and suspense account), the expenditure incurred on original and repair works, and the establishment employed on these works, the percentage of this establishment on the amount spent on works as also the percentage of total expenditure on works, including establishment, calculated on the revenue, with those of the two previous years:—

15. Water-supply.—Fifteen new bandhs (reservoirs) and four new wells have been constructed, and three old bandhs repaired in Kolhan Government estate from the Estates Improvement Fund. The sources of water-supply given below are primâ facie inadequate; but considering the number of rivers, streams, and springs in this district, there is no serious defect except sometimes in some places during April and May before rain falls. During the year there was no shortness of supply.

MOHINI MOHAN GHOSH,
Vice-Chairman, District Road Cess Committee, Singhbhum.

J. C. TWIDELL,
Chairman, District Road Cess Committee, Singhbhum.

Abstract of the report by the Chairman, District Road Committee of Sonthal Parganas, on the operations of the District Road Fund of the District for the year 1902-1903.

[Vide letter No. 182P W., dated 9th June 1903, from C. H. Bompas, Esq., c s., Chairman of the District Road Committee of Sonthal Parganas to the Commissioner of the Bhagalpur Division and Sonthal Parganas.]

1. The Local Self-Government Act was not in force in the district during the year. The provisions of the Cess Act (IX of 1880) were extended to certain selected portions of the district under Government Notification No 4189R P., dated the 20th August 1901. But there were no cess collections during the year owing to the difficulty having arisen with regard to the valuation of the estates borne on the tauzi roll of other districts.

2. Working of the Committee.—Besides the Chairman, the Committee consisted of nine members, of whom three were official and the rest non-official. The latter all belong to the class of landed proprietors or hold analogous position. The Committee held nine meetings against three in the previous year, three of those meetings had to be adjourned owing to there having been no quorum. The average attendance of members was 3·0 against 5·7 and the percentage of average attendance 33·3 against 62 9 in the year before. The attendance of the non-official members was very low but as no cess was collected there was no particular reason for their attendance as they had no direct interest in the funds which were being administered and they all, but one, reside at a distance from Dumka.

RECEIPTS.

3. The year opened with a cash balance of Rs. 28,308 which together with the receipt of Rs. 1,07,889 made available the sum of Rs. 1,36,197 for expenditure during the year; of this Rs. 92,228 was spent leaving a closing balance of Rs. 43,969. The cause of this heavy balance was that no portion of the allotment set apart for certain bridges on the main roads of the District could be utilized owing to the projects and estimates not having been duly approved in time. Besides, the grant of Rs. 8,676 from the forest revenue was received late in the year, and no arrangement could possibly be made for its expenditure.

4. There being no cess collections, the receipt of the year consisted mainly of the Government grants-in-aid. The following table compares the receipt under several heads of the year with the receipt under those of the previous year:—

	1901-1902. Rs.	1902-1903. Rs

5. XXV—Miscellaneous.—The increase under the head "Miscellaneous" was owing to the refund of the pensionary contribution of the Accountant credited to this head.

6. XXXII—Civil Works.—The decrease under the head "Receipts from staging bungalows" was due to the considerable falling off in the collections from Dumka and Rajmahal Dâk Bungalows during the year. The ferry receipt decreased owing to the Dhoboi ferry not having been settled for want of a ferry dugout, the one of the Mohorro having been dashed away, was replaced by that at Dhoboi. During the previous year a large number of tools and plant were found missing on recounting and the value thereof to the extent of Rs. 631 was recovered from the parties in fault, but the receipt on this account during the year was only Rs. 317; hence the decrease under "Civil Works—Miscellaneous."

7. The grants from Government were composed of the following :—

	Rs.
(a) Fixed annual grant for road works	60,000
(b) Grant out of 16 per cent on collection for miscellaneous public improvements	5,890
(c) 1½ per cent. on collections from Government estates ...	2,776
(d) Grant from forest revenue	8,676
Total ...	77,342

The receipt under item (d) is altogether a new grant sanctioned in Bengal Government No. 4460, of 10th December 1902, and accounts for the increase of revenue under head "Grant from Government" during the year.

9. The total expenditure under "Land Revenue" was Rs 8,595 during the year against Rs. 11,683 during the previous year. The decrease is principally under "New Works" and is due to non-payment for the Gumra bridge for which a provision of Rs. 2,000 was originally made, but two of the constructed piers having been washed away the work could not be proceeded with. There also lapsed about Rs. 1.400 provided for culverts in Godda subdivision owing to the difficulty in obtaining materials and contractors. Four Damin bungalows were completed during the year; Borio and Brindabon bungalows in Rajmahal and Jhilimili and Kuskira Bungalows in Dumka subdivision. Two new bungalows at Saldat and Gopi kandur in the latter subdivision were also started. The payments for these works raised the expenditure under "Land Revenue—Miscellaneous."

10. The decrease under "Medical" is appreciable. The amount spent represents the compensation paid for destruction of property in a plague case which occurred at Deoghar.

11. During the year four subordinates and one ministerial officer were allowed to draw contribution towards their Provident Fund with effect from dates of their confirmation. Then, again, the District Engineer drew his full contribution, while in the previous year the officiating incumbent, who worked during the greater portion of the year, did nothing of the sort. This accounts for the increase under "Provident Fund contribution." Rupees 45, spent on instruction of fly-shuttle weaving during 1901-1902, was shown under "Miscellaneous," and although an expenditure of Rs. 47 was incurred for the same purpose during the year, it was debited to "Land Revenue—Miscellaneous" as the labourers were solely amongst Damin weavers. Hence no expenditure under the head "Miscellaneous."

12. A nominal sum of Rs. 44 only was spent under "Civil Buildings,—New Works" out of the Public Works allotments received prior to 1901-1902. The increase under "Civil Buildings—Repairs" is due to the quadrennial repairs having been done to the Road Account office buildings during the year. The expenditure under "Communications—New Works" decreased owing to the failure to utilize the allotments set apart for bridge works as explained in paragraph 3 above. The increase under "Repairs—Communications," was due to high charge made in repairing the flood damages in the Bhagalpur-Suri Road and two roads in Godda subdivision.

13. The increase under "Establishment" was due—

(1) to the officiating District Engineer having been paid his salary at a reduced rate and the travelling allowance at 2nd class rates during the year 1901-1902.

(2) to a fresh charge, Rs. 505, having been made on account of the pension of the Overseer, during the year.

14. Original Works.—The principal works carried out during the year in this district were as follows :—

LAND REVENUE.

(1) Constructing Damin Bungalows at Jhilimili, Kuskira, Borio and Brindabon.

COMMUNICATIONS.

(2) Constructing a 20-feet bridge over Bedia nala at a cost of Rs. 1,172.

(3) Stone-metalling Road No. 2 Dumka Ramporehat Road at an expenditure of Rs. 2,750.

(4) Constructing Dhaboi bridge at an outlay of Rs. 663.

(5) Constructing a bridge in 29th mile of Road No. 2 Dumka Ramporehat Road at a cost of Rs. 734.

CIVIL BUILDINGS.

(6) Constructing a Malkhana and prisoners' shed at Deoghur on which Rs. 733 were spent.

(7) Providing record-racks to the Record-room at Dumka, on which an expenditure of Rs. 2,607 was incurred.

15. The expenditure on repairs is classified in the following table :—

17. There were altogether 882½ miles of scheduled roads in the district against 793 miles shown in the previous year. The difference is due to the taking on, to the schedule, of three new roads, Godda-Simlong, Burhait-Amrapara and Heronpur-Simlong Roads, and to the calculation of mileage in accordance with the revised schedule of 1901. The repairs were executed to all of the scheduled roads except Kumarabad Road which is being annually repaired by the Zamindar of Belpatta, the total amount spent in maintaining these roads was Rs. 27,166 against Rs. 24,470 in the previous year. The Bhagalpur-Suri Road was seriously damaged by flood during the year, and Rs. 1,736 had to be spent in repairing the damages, principally in restoring a bridge at Pasoroo in the 69th mile. Out of the private donation, Rs. 211 was spent in repairing Ranibohal-Babupur Road and Ranigram-Ashanboni Road, and Rs. 544 in original works on the same road.

18. Four Damin Bungalows, one each at Borio, Brindabon, Jhilimili and Kuskira, were constructed; three more at Banjhee, Saldat and Gopikandur were under construction during the year.

19. The receipts and expenditure of the three Dâk Bangalows under the District Road Committee are compared with those of the previous year in the following table:—

21. Sanitation.—Rupees 342 out of the Estate Improvement Fund was spent on sanitation. The construction of Nakti and Amtola bandhs which was commenced in 1901-1902, was completed during the year. The annual contribution to the Sanitation Committee at Rajmahal for sweeping Rajmahal town roads was continued.

22. Water-supply.—It is reported that the water-supply during the year was sufficient throughout the district, and that the existing sources were enough for ordinary purposes. The following statement shows the thana totals of Form No. I prescribed by Government Circular No. 8T.—M., dated the 15th May 1896:—

The following statement shows the receipts of the year compared with those of the previous year :—

The private traffic on the tramway and the earnings therefrom during the year amounted to 10,087 maunds 23 seers and 6 chitaks, and Rs. 1,237-8-3, respectively, against 7,208 maunds 26 seers, and Rs. 929-15 in 1901-1902.

[Explanation of marginal notes:—

"Zoo." means the rules of the Alipur Zoological Garden, printed on the 30th January, 1899.]

A

for the regulation of Public Parks in Bengal.

Whereas it is expedient to protect public parks and gardens in Bengal from injury, and to secure the public from molestation and annoyance while resorting to such parks and gardens; [Cf. 35 & 36 Vict., c. 15, preamble.]

It is hereby enacted as follows:—

Short title and application.

1. (1) This Act may be called the Bengal Public Parks Act, 1903.

(2) It applies to the public parks and gardens mentioned in the Schedule, and may be applied to any other public park or garden in Bengal by order of the Local Government published in the Calcutta Gazette.

Definitions.

2. In this Act, unless there is anything repugnant in the subject or context,—

(a) "park" means any public park or garden to which this Act applies by virtue of section 1, sub-section (2), or any order published thereunder;

(b) "superintendent" means the person in executive charge of a park; and, for the purposes of section 5, sub-section (2), includes also—

(i) an assistant superintendent of a park, and

(ii) any member of the Managing Committee (if any) of a park; and

(c) "park-durwan" means any person appointed by the superintendent, or by the authority to whom the superintendent is subordinate, to act as a durwan of the park.

Power to make rules.

3. (1) The Local Government may make rules for the management and preservation of any park, and for regulating the use thereof by the public. [Cf. 35 & 36 Vict., c. 15, s. 4.]

(2) In particular, and without prejudice to the generality of the foregoing power, such rules may—

(a) regulate the admission of persons, carriages, horses, ponies and palanquins into the park, and prescribe fees to be paid therefor; [Zoo., rules 8 to 13 and 15; Bot., rule 2.]

(b) prohibit or regulate the bringing of dogs, bicycles or tricycles into the park; [Bot., rule 17; Zoo., rule 15.]

(c) prohibit the doing of all or any of the following things by persons other than employés of the park, that is to say, gathering anything growing in the park, breaking trees, branches or plants, cutting names or marks on trees, disfiguring buildings, furniture or monuments; [Bot., rule 6; Zoo., rule 15.]

(d) prohibit the purchase of any produce of the park otherwise than from the superintendent; [Bot., rules 7, 8.]

(e) prohibit shooting, bird-nesting or the catching of butterflies; [Bot., rule 13; Zoo., rule 15.]

(h) prohibit the grazing of horses or ponies; [Bot., rule 12.]

(j) prohibit the teasing or annoying of animals or birds kept in the park. [Zoo., rule 15.]

(3) In making any rule under this section, the Local Government may direct that a breach thereof shall be punishable with fine which may extend to one hundred rupees.

(4) The power to make rules under this section is subject to the condition that they shall be made after previous publication.

Exhibition of copies of rules in park.

4. One or more copies, in English and in one or more vernacular languages, of all rules made under section 3 for observance by persons resorting to a park, and for the time being in force, shall be put up in the park in such conspicuous manner as the superintendent may deem best calculated to give information to such persons. [Cf. 35 & 36 Vict., c. 15, s. 10.]

Refusal to give name and residence.

5. (1) If any person who, in the presence of a park-durwan in uniform, has committed or has been accused of committing a breach of any rule made under section 3, refuses, on demand of such durwan, to give his name and residence, or gives a name or residence which such durwan has reason to believe to be false, such person may be arrested by such durwan in order that his name or residence may be ascertained.

[Cf. 35 & 36 Vict., c. 15, s. 5; Act V, 1898, s. 57.]

(2) When any person is arrested under sub-section (1) he shall forthwith be taken to the superintendent, or, if the superintendent be not present in the park or its immediate precincts, such person shall be taken to the nearest police-station.

(3) If the true name and residence of any person so taken to the superintendent be not ascertained within a reasonable time, the superintendent shall forthwith send for an officer of police, and shall detain the offender until the arrival of such an officer, and shall then deliver him into the custody of such officer to be taken to the nearest police-station.

(4) If the true name and residence of any person taken to a police-station under this section be not ascertained within a reasonable time, he shall forthwith be forwarded to the nearest Magistrate having jurisdiction.

(5) When the true name and residence of any person arrested under this section have been ascertained, he shall be released.

(6) No person shall be detained under this section for a longer period than twenty-four hours from the time of his arrest.

General powers, duties, etc., of park-durwan.

6. Every park-durwan shall, in addition to any powers and immunities specially conferred on him by this Act or by rules made hereunder, have, within the limits of the park to which he is appointed, all such powers, privileges, and immunities, and shall, within the said limits, be liable to all such duties and responsibilities, as a police-constable has and is liable to within the limits of the police-station in which such park is comprised:

[Cf. 35 & 36 Vict., c. 15, s. 7; Act V, 1898, s. 4 (s).]

Provided that every park-durwan shall be subordinate to the superintendent.

Penalty for assault on park-durwan.

7. If any person assaults a park-durwan acting in the execution of his duty, he shall be liable to fine which may extend to two hundred rupees or to imprisonment for a term which may extend to six months.

[Cf. 35 & 36 Vict., c. 15, s. 6.]

General powers, etc., of police-constables.

8. Every police-constable employed within the limits of a police-station shall have, within any park comprised in such limits, the powers, privileges, and immunities conferred on a park-durwan by this Act and any rules made hereunder.

[Cf. 35 & 36 Vict., c. 15, s. 8; Act V, 1898 s. 4 (s).]

THE SCHEDULE.

PUBLIC PARKS AND GARDENS TO WHICH THIS ACT APPLIES IN THE FIRST INSTANCE.

[See section 1, sub-section (2).]

The Royal Botanic Garden, Sibpur.

The Zoological Garden, Alipur.

The Eden Gardens, Calcutta.

The Lloyd Botanical Garden, Darjeeling.

The Victoria Pleasance, Darjeeling.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

THE object of this Bill is to provide a procedure for the introduction of statutory rules for the regulation of public parks in Bengal. The principal parks are the Royal Botanic Garden at Sibpur and the Zoological Garden at Alipur. These gardens have hitherto been managed under rules which have not the force of law, and the absence of a legal sanction has led to difficulties in administering the rules.

The Bill is based on the Parks Regulation Act, 1872 (35 and 36 Vict., cap. 15), and its leading provisions are as follows.

It is proposed in clause 3 to empower the Local Government to make rules for the management and preservation of public parks, for regulating the use of such parks by the public, and for the imposition of fines, up to Rs. 100, for any breach of the rules. Clause 5 authorises the arrest of offenders who refuse to give their name and residence. Clauses 6 and 8 confer general powers on park-durwans and police-constables, respectively, and clause 7 provides penalties for assaulting a park-durwan.

The Bill will apply in the first instance to five public parks specified in the schedule, and power is given by clause 1 (2) to apply it, by order published in the Calcutta Gazette, to any other public park or garden in Bengal.

THE BENGAL TRAMWAYS (AMMENDMENT) BILL. 1903.

A

BILL

To amend the Bengal Tramways Act, 1883.

WHEREAS it is expedient to amend the Bengal Tramways Act, 1883; (Ben. Act III of 1883.)

It is hereby enacted as follows:—

Short title.

1. This Act may be called the Bengal Tramways (Amendment) Act, 1903.

Amendment of Ben. Act III of 1883, section 41.

2. After the word "shorter," in the proviso to section 41 of the Bengal Tramways Act, 1883, the words "or longer" shall be inserted.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

THE object of this Bill is to enable promoters and any local authority (such as a body of Municipal Commissioners) to provide, in any agreement for the construction of a tramway, that the local authority may postpone beyond the ordinary term of twenty-one years the exercise of their right to purchase the tramway. Power to fix the time of purchase by executive order is conferred by section 22 of the Indian Tramways Act, 1886 (XI of 1886); but that Act is not in force in Bengal, and it has been represented that the absolute period of twenty-one years, which is fixed for this Province by section 41 of the Bengal Tramways Act, 1883 (Ben. Act III of 1883), is so short as to prevent the investment of capital in the construction of tramways.

III.—STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

THE object of this Bill is to consolidate and amend the Bengal Excise law, which is now contained in the Bengal Excise Act, VII of 1878, as amended on different occasions by five Acts, viz., Act IX of 1885, Act XIII of 1890, Bengal Act IV of 1881, Bengal Act I of 1883, and Bengal Act II of 1903. The time has arrived when it is clearly necessary to repeal and re-enact the present law. The Bill is mainly a consolidating measure, and accordingly re-enacts large portions of Bengal Act VII of 1878 as amended from time to time. There are many matters in respect of which that Act is defective or obscure, and new provisions have been introduced into the Bill for dealing with them. All material changes in the existing law which are proposed in the Bill are mentioned in the following notes.

Notes on Clauses.

1. Chapter I.—Preliminary.—Clauses 2 (b), 16 and 69.—These clauses have reference to a proposal put forward by the Calcutta Wine, Spirit, and Beer Association that the bottling of wines and spirits for sale should be prohibited, except under license. The object of the restriction is to prevent German patent spirits, sophisticated to resemble whisky or brandy, from being sold as the genuine article. Clause 2 (b) defines bottling, clause 16 prohibits bottling for sale without a license, and clause 69 imposes a penalty for breach of clause 16.

2. Clause 2 (c).—As the jurisdiction of the Superintendent of Excise Revenue, Calcutta, comprises Calcutta, the Suburbs, and the towns of Howrah and Bally, the "Calcutta district" has been defined so as to include the whole of this area, but power has been reserved to the Government to reduce the area according to requirements.

3. Clause 2 (f) defines the term "Excise Officer," there being no exhaustive definition of the term in the present law. The legal authority of an Excise Deputy Collector was lately called in question in a certain case, and the definition is inserted in order to place the powers of such officials beyond dispute.

4. Clause 2 (h).—This provision is modelled on section 3 (16) of the Madras Abkari Act, 1886. Clauses 25 and 26 of the Bill, with reference to which clause 2 (h) has been inserted, confer on the Board of Revenue, subject to the sanction of the Local Government, full power to regulate the export of exciseable articles. The necessity of such provisions was brought to notice in connection with the export of ganja to London without prepayment of duty.

5. Clause 2 (k).—This definition follows section 3 (15) of the Madras Abkari Act. It is inserted with reference to clause 23 of the Bill, which will enable the Board to realize on any exciseable article imported from a province in British India such duty as the Local Government has fixed in respect of a like article when manufactured in Bengal, or if no like article is manufactured in Bengal, then such duty as the Local Government may fix in this behalf.

6. Clause 2 (l).—The opportunity has been taken to introduce a more precise and comprehensive definition of intoxicating drugs.

7. Clause 2 (n).—The term "manufacture" is not defined in the present Act; consequently the word has been held to apply to the complete process only, and not to a part of the process. Admixing and rectifying for purposes of sale have been included in this definition, which should be read with clause 2 (q). The addition of the words "for purposes of sale" has been made with the object of excluding such harmless operations as colouring, flavouring or blending when carried out by the consumer.

8. Clause 2 (o).—The definition of "pachwai" supplies an omission in the present Act.

9. Clause 2 (r).—The present Act contains no definition of "spirit," but defines "spirituous liquor." That definition is obviously imperfect, and has led to two inconvenient rulings by Courts of law. In one case the accused was charged with illegal manufacture of liquor, his act being the addition of a fermented wash to white spirit. The Court held that "spirituous liquor" did not include liquor manufactured by a process of fermentation, and that the addition of a fermented wash to spirit did not constitute the manufacture of spirituous liquor. In the other case, the accused was charged with manufacturing Sanjibani Sura, a medicinal preparation containing a large quantity of spirituous liquor, without a license, but the Court held that "spirituous liquor" did not include a medical preparation, and the accused was acquitted. Such a state of the law would exempt all spirit if slightly medicated, and would open a vast field for defrauding the revenue. Hence spirit has been defined as in the Bill, the definition of "spirituous liquor" has been omitted, and a new sub-clause (2) has been added to clause 2, to empower the Local Government to declare what shall be deemed to be "country spirit" and "foreign liquor," respectively.

10. Clause 2 (3).—Section 15 of the Act fixes a maximum for the retail sale of each article, and difficulty has been felt when the circumstances of excise in certain districts seem to require a lower limit. Accordingly power is now reserved to the Board to fix the limit of retail and wholesale sale, respectively, either for the whole Province or for any specified local area.

11. Chapter II.—Manufacture and Storage.—As manufacture includes production [see clause 2(n)] all references to "production" have been omitted, the only exception being in clauses, such as 3 (c), referring to the production of intoxicating drugs.

All clauses relating to the cultivation of plants from which an intoxicating drug can be produced have been altered so as to refer to the collection, as well as the cultivation, of plants.

12. Clause 3 (c).—This clause is mainly aimed at the unlicensed collection of bhang. Most of the bhang which is used is collected from the wild plant, and the Collector has at present no legal control over the process of collection. The clause accordingly prohibits the collection or cultivation of plants without a license, and clause 66 (i) imposes an adequate penalty for breach of this prohibition.

13. Clause 3 (e).—The object of this clause is to have all stills licensed. The provision is justified by the fact that manufacturers of rose-water, kewara, etc., have been detected in using their stills to make spirituous liquors. The clause is qualified by the proviso to clause 42 (c), which declares that no fee shall be prescribed for a license for a still not actually used for the manufacture of spirit.

14. Clause 4.—Under the present Act it is only the Collector who can establish a distillery, and fix limits within which no liquor except that manufactured at such a distillery shall be introduced without a pass. It may be convenient that spirit from a single distillery should be supplied to several districts, and it is to meet such a case that this clause enables the Excise Commissioner as well as the Collector to fix the limits referred to. The clause also provides for the establishing or licensing of depôts where liquor manufactured at central distilleries may be stored for issue.

15. Clauses 6, 7, 8 and 9.—It is proposed to take power in the Bill for the establishment and regulation of warehouses for the storage of hemp drugs. The Government of India acknowledge that neither ganja nor bhang are likely to be imported under bond (nor charas either, for which special executive arrangements have been made), but they are nevertheless of opinion that the establishment or licensing of warehouses for these drugs in Bengal might hereafter be found necessary with reference to the system of control over the traffic in hemp drugs which is laid down in the Excise Act, 1896. These new clauses are also required in order to give full effect to the provisions of clause 10 of the Bill.

16. Clause 10.—This clause, which relates to the imposition of duties, will legalize the issue of spirits or drugs free of duty for Government purposes, and the levy of duty at varying rates to be fixed by Government on different classes of articles, or on the same article when consumed in different places. Explanation 2 meets the case of a central distillery which supplies spirits to districts in which different rates of duty are in force.

17. Clause 11 has been introduced to legalize the existing practice under which ganja and sidhi declared unfit for use are destroyed by order of the Collector.

18. Clause 12 amplifies the rule-making powers of the Board of Revenue, in order to cover new matter introduced into the Bill.

19. Clause 12 (i).—This is taken from the Madras Act. Allegations have frequently been made regarding the use of deleterious substances in the process of manufacture. It may prove desirable to have power to prohibit the use of such substances or the use of particular flavouring or colouring matters in blending spirits for the market.

20. Chapter III.—Sale and Possession.—Clauses 18 and 19.—These clauses extend the present law by prohibiting absolutely the possession of even the smallest quantity of any exciseable article that has been illicitly obtained. Clause 19 (2) also puts country rum on the same footing as imported spirit in respect of transport and possession. Again, the limit of private possession is a serious obstacle to the smuggler, and it has consequently been fixed at a figure not higher than the limit of retail sale.

21. Clause 20.—The High Court decided in the case of Jagarnath Mandhata and others v. the Queen-Empress (1897), I.L.R., 24 Calc., 324, that an Excise officer has under the present law no authority to enter and search a house in which a "foreign exciseable article" may be suspected to have been concealed. In order to meet this defect, clause 20 has been drawn so as to refer to exciseable articles generally. The definition of foreign exciseable article in the Act has been omitted from the Bill, and clause 73 (a) has also been revised.

22. Clause 21 is based on section 58 of the Madras Excise Act, and has been inserted to meet the case of possession without payment of duty. The opportunity has been taken to extend the clause, as in the Madras Act, to the unlawful possession of exciseable articles which have been imported, manufactured or transported in contravention of any provision of the law.

23. Clause 22 is wholly new, except that clauses (b) and (c) incorporate the provisions of section 35 of the present Act. As regards clause (f), it may be mentioned that although the system of maximum and minimum prices has been abolished under the orders of Government, yet it would be desirable to retain in the Act the power to fix such prices.

24. Chapter IV.—Import, Export and Transport—Clause 23.—Reference has already been made to this clause in connection with clause 2 (k). It is only necessary to add that clause 23 (2) declares that the provisions of clause 23 (1) shall not apply to any article which is subject, upon importation, to duty under the Indian Tariff Act, 1894, or the Sea Customs Act, 1878.

25. Clause 27.—On the analogy of section 12 (c) of the Excise Act, 1896, general power is taken to prohibit the import and export of exciseable articles, as done in regard to transport in clause 28 of the Bill. Although the powers in question may not be required in Bengal in present circumstances, it is possible that they may be found necessary hereafter.

26. Clause 28—This clause has been inserted to meet administrative difficulties already felt in connection with the transport of country spirits.

27. Chapter V.—Farm of Fees.—This chapter deals with the farm of fees. It reproduces the present law, with minor amendments Although the farming system is not at present in force in Bengal, the chapter is retained in case it should hereafter be found convenient to farm out a particular branch of the excise revenue.

28. Chapter VI.—Provisions as to Licenses and Permits.—Clause 38 is a reproduction of section 7 of Bengal Act II of 1903, except that the clause is amplified so as to make it applicable to children as well to women.

29. Clause 39.—This clause is important. Sub-clause (c) has been amplified so as to render a license or permit liable to be summarily cancelled for any offence against the Excise Act, or the Indian Merchandise Marks Act, or any section introduced into the Indian Penal Code by section 3 of the latter Act. The reason for this amendment is as follows. A licensee who held two licenses for the retail sale of country spirits, also held a subsidiary license for the sale of imported liquors. He was convicted of an offence in connection with the sale of imported liquor, and his license for such sale for the shop in which the offence was committed was cancelled. But, on the question of cancelling the other two licenses, it was held that under section 29 of the present Excise Act a license could be cancelled only for the violation of one of the conditions on which it was itself granted, and not for the violation of a condition of any other license, although the two licenses might be held by the same person. To remedy this defect sub-clause (2) has been added in order to make a conviction under any of the laws mentioned in clauses (c) and (d) a ground for cancelling all excise licenses held by the offender. As regards clause (d), it may be explained that, by section 10 (1) of the Indian Merchandise Marks Act, certain additions are made to the list of prohibited goods in section 18 of the Sea Customs Act, the effect of which is to prohibit the importation of goods bearing a false trade mark or a false trade description, and that under section 167 (8) of the Sea Customs Act any person who imports or attempts to import any such goods is liable to a fine and to confiscation of the goods at the hands of the Collector of Customs. Action is constantly taken in the Custom House under the last-named section, but several cases have occurred which differ from that of the licensee above referred to in that the fraud was discovered in the Custom House before the goods were offered for sale to the public (and there was therefore no conviction under the Indian Merchandise Marks Act). Accordingly, sub-clause (d) is so framed as to authorise the cancellation of a license in cases of this class.

30. Clause 41.—The expression "sum payable under the license" occurring in section 30 of the present Excise Act is in practice construed as meaning the sum payable under the license for the period up to date of surrender, and not the sum payable under the license for the whole year. This has the effect of enabling defaulting licensed vendors to evade their due liabilities by merely surrendering their license. The amendment now proposed will require a licensee in such cases to pay in the license fee for the whole period of the currency of the license. The principle is a sound one, tempered as it is by the proviso in the Bill which permits the Commissioner to remit to the vendor any sum payable by him.

31. Chapter VII.—Officers and their powers.—Clause 44.—Section 32 of the present Act imposes unnecessary limitations in regard to the appointment of a Superintendent of Excise Revenue. Clause 44 of the Bill therefore allows the appointment of a special officer to exercise all or any of the powers and to perform all or any of the duties of the Collector either concurrently with, or to the exclusion of, the Collector, and the withdrawal from the Collector of all or any of his powers in respect of the excise revenue, when such an appointment has been made.

32. Clause 46, which takes the place of section 34 of the Act, is a necessary consequence of the reorganization of the Excise Department on a provincial basis.

33. Clause 48—The present law (section 37 of the Act) has been so amended as to give Excise Officers not below the rank of Sub-Inspectors power to enter and inspect shops. The power of arrest and seizure is often of no avail, unless the power of inspection is given as well.

34. Clause 49 gives any Excise Officer on a monthly salary of not less than Rs. 10 the power to arrest without a warrant and the power to seize unlicensed stills, etc.

35. Clause 50.—The only amendment of any importance is that while the present law authorizes an Excise Officer to stop and detain persons carrying illicit liquor or apparatus when authorized by a warrant from the Collector, clause 50 of the Bill confers this power on the officer without special authorization, but with the restriction that he may only act in a public place.

36. Clause 51—Under section 40 of the Excise Act an Excise Officer, on receiving information of a breach of the excise law, can only search in the presence of an officer of police not being lower in grade than a corporal or head-constable. As police officers are not everywhere immediately available, many cases escape detection, and it is proposed to amend the law so as to dispense with the attendance of the police.

37. Clause 52.—The power of entering chemists' shops, where drinking goes on, should not be restricted to the night, as in section 43 of the present Act. The practice at which the section is aimed is an insidious one, and offers special temptations The words "between sunset and sunrise" have therefore been omitted. The section has further been amended so as to authorize its application to any places, other than the town and suburbs of Calcutta and Howrah, to which it may hereafter be extended by the Local Government.

38. Clause 54 is new. It is based on the Madras Abkari Act. The intention of the clause is obvious.

39. Clause 55.—The words "unless bail be accepted under section 64" have been added, since section 64 (1) gives an absolute direction that offenders, if prepared to give bail, are to be released on bail; the words "for trial or adjudication" have been inserted, and the words occurring in the Act (section 44) "or, if the arrest, seizure or search has been made in the town of Calcutta to a Presidency Magistrate" have been struck out as being superfluous, since jurisdiction in Calcutta is exercised by Presidency Magistrates only.

40. Clause 56 is based upon section 46 of the present Act. The words "either from information in writing or from the proceedings in any other case" are omitted in order to make the power conferred upon the Collector more comprehensive; and an addition is made to cover the illicit cultivation or collection of bhang.

41. Clauses 59 and 60 are based on section 38 of the Madras Abkari Act. They provide for reports of breaches of the Act, and require every person employed by Government to take all reasonable measures in his power to prevent the commission of any such breaches.

42. Clause 61.—This clause, which is based on section 39 of the Bombay Abkari Act, 1878, provides that, besides police officers, village chaukidars and officers of the Customs and other departments shall be bound to assist Excise Officers. It was noticed that the stoppage in 1892 of the practice of arrest by chaukidars, and the restriction of the power of arrest to officers not below the rank of a head-constable, had encouraged smuggling across the Nepal Frontier. It is true that village chaukidars cannot very well be vested with general powers of arrest, but in practice this clause will enable them to take action against smugglers.

43. Clause 63.—This clause is based upon sections 42 and 45 of the present Act, which have been altered so as to be brought into harmony with the new definition of the "Calcutta district," contained in clause 2 (c) of the Bill.

44. Clause 64 is new. It provides for bail being accepted. The principle of the clause is sound, and the system is found to have worked well in Madras.

45. Clause 65 is borrowed from the Madras and Bombay Abkari Acts, and gives legal authority to what has always been the practice in Bengal.

46. Chapter VIII.—Penalties and Procedure.—Under the existing law all first offences are punishable with fine only; and imprisonment, either simple or rigorous, can only be awarded as an additional penalty where a previous conviction is proved. Where the offenders belong, as they mostly do, to the lower classes, experience has shown that simple imprisonment fails to induce them to pay their fines. Where, again, people of the upper classes take to conducting illicit distillation on a large scale, the business proves so lucrative that a fine produces no effect. Additions have accordingly been made in the Bill to give power, in many cases, to sentence an offender to imprisonment of either description in lieu of, or in addition to, fine. Amendments have also been made to bring this Chapter into harmony with the preceding Chapters of the Bill.

47. Clause 66.—This clause incorporates parts of sections 53 to 55 of the present Act. The present law does not provide any punishment for the possession of an unlicensed still, although section 10A prohibits such possession and section 39 empowers an Excise Officer to arrest the possessor. Sub-clause (c) of clause 66 of the Bill supplies the omission.

48. Clause 68.—The words "and any licensed retail vendor who sells any exciseable article by retail in any manner which is not covered by his license" have been inserted in sub-clause (2) as a necessary amendment for Calcutta. This amendment will make the offence punishable with a fine of Rs. 200, whereas under section 59 of the present Act the fine is limited to Rs. 50, which, being often less and never more than a month's fee, is insufficient, and only acts as an inducement to vendors to run the risk of detection.

49. Clause 70.—Is taken from the Bombay and Madras Abkari Acts, and is aimed mainly at the trade in spurious liquors.

50. Clause 73.—This clause, read with clauses 18, 19 and 21, will render it possible to punish persons who have in their possession exciseable articles which have not paid duty, or have been illicitly obtained, even if the quantity of such articles does not exceed the limit of private possession.

Sub-clause 1 (b) meets the common case of licensed vendors of distillery liquor selling outstill liquor. Such liquor is necessarily in excess of the quantity shown in their accounts as received from the distillery; but under the present law they can only be prosecuted for a breach of the conditions of their licenses (section 59) and fined Rs. 50.

51. Clause 74.—This clause is new. It extends to exciseable articles the rule laid down in section 27 of the Indian Penal Code as to property in the possession of a wife, clerk or servant being deemed to be in the possession of the husband or master.

52. Clause 75 is the natural sequence of the provisions in clauses 25, 26, 27 and 28 regarding the import, export and transport of exciseable articles. It is here proposed to be enacted that any person committing an act in contravention of these sections shall be liable punishment.

53. Clauses 76 and 77.—The present law prescribes no penalty for breach of the provisions of Bengal Act II of 1903 (sections 6 and 7), which now appear as sections 37 and of the Bill, in regard to the unlawful transfer of a license and the unlawful employment women or children by licensed vendors. It is accordingly proposed to take power to nish such breaches by fine up to a limit of Rs. 500.

54. Clause 78.—It is proposed to raise the penalty for failure on the part of a license-holder to produce his license, or for breach of rule under the Act, or condition of a license for which no other penalty is otherwise provided, from Rs. 50 as under the present Act (section 59) to Rs. 200. It is desirable to assimilate the practice of the Bill more closely to the Madras Act, which gives a freer scope in the punishment of breaches of excise licenses, but not more so than is desirable in the interests of effective administration.

55. Clause 79.—Under the present law (section 59) power is given to punish the licensee, but not his servant, for certain breaches of the license committed by a servant. Under clause 78 of the Bill it will be possible to punish the servant, but not the licensee-master, for a breach of the license committed by the servant. Under the Madras Abkari Act, section 64, the holder of an excise license, as well as the actual offender, is punishable for any offence committed by any person in the employment of the licensee or acting in his behalf as if he had himself committed the same, unless he can prove that all reasonable precautions were exercised by him to prevent the commission of the offence. It is considered desirable to assimilate the practice in Bengal to that in Madras, and clause 79 has accordingly been inserted in the Bill.

56. Clause 85 is the natural sequence of the provision in clause 64 regarding the taking of bail. It is here proposed to be enacted that officers unreasonably refusing to release an arrested person on bail shall be liable to punishment.

57. Clause 89, which is based on section 59 of the Excise Act, XII of 1896, declares that an attempt or abetment shall be equally punishable with the principal offence.

58. Clause 91, containing an exhaustive list of the articles which are liable to confiscation.

59. Clause 94 provides for the compounding of offences under the Excise Act. Under the present law offenders have invariably to be prosecuted before a Magistrate, or their licenses have to be cancelled. There are many cases in which it would be to the advantage of both the offender and the revenue if the Collector had power to compromise.

60. Clause 102, giving power to exempt articles from provisions of the Act, has been somewhat amplified. The words "or for any specified period or occasion" have been added with special reference to the fact that concessions regarding pachwai brewing are allowed for special festivals.

61. Clause 104.—By sub-clause 1(a), Act XVI of 1863, which deals with methylated spirit, is expressly saved. The enactment of sub-clause (2) is desirable, as section 10 of the Bengal General Clauses Act is not sufficient to carry on the references to the Acts XI of 1849 and XXI of 1856, those Acts having been repealed by the Bengal Excise Act, 1878.
